Incorporation Decision in 30 Days

Residents Will Vote if Steps Should Be Taken

About 200 persons thronged Orinda School auditorium Monday night for a lively discussion of incorporation and prepared for another "Town Hall" meeting in about a month at which decision is expected to be made on whether Orinda should take steps toward becoming a sixth class city.

(See separate stories for details of discussion and for questions and answers.)

Monday night's "Town Hall" gathering was called by the Orinda Association and culminated a year and a half of work by the association's incorporation study committee.

Basis of the discussion was the Coro Foundation's report on probable income and expenditures of an incorporated Orinda, completed in July.

NEITHER the association board nor the incorporation study committee made any recommendation Monday night for or against incorporation—and the Coro report contained no such recommendation.

"This meeting was called for discussion of the Coro report and for the asking and answering of questions," Association President Zach Montgomery told the audience at the outset of the meeting.

Chairman Frank Cayting of the incorporation study committee said: "IT WAS THE THOUGHT of the committee and the association board that this meeting should primarily be a discussion session, with no recommendations, and that, after about 30 days, during which the people of the community can investigate the matter, you come to another 'Town Hall' meeting and, as residents of Orinda, make a decision on what should be done on this particular problem."

Ken Norris, director of Coro's consulting service, who prepared the report for $800, and County Road Commissioner Victor W. Sauer were present to answer questions.

Cayting conducted the meeting. Members of his committee summarized the Coro report, with the various sections being covered by the following speakers:

TEVIS THOMPSON — "Alternatives." Thompson also briefly outlined the history of the incorporation study movement here.

Ramsay Underwood—"The Nature of Orinda." Turning to Norris, Underwood said, "With all due respect to you, Ken, this section should be called 'The Nature of the Problem'."

Bill Corbett—"Orinda Services."

Cayting (substituting for John DenDulk, who had been called out of town on business) — "The City."

Berton Kohler—"Appendix." The appendix constitutes fully half of the 26-page report.

AFTER THESE SUMMARIES, there was a 5-minute "break." Then came the question-and-answer period, which lasted an hour and 10 minutes.

Queries were directed to various members of the committee and to Norris and Sauer.

The seventh member of the committee, Harold Jones, was unable to be present.

Norris Urges Caution in Use Of Coro Report

"A little bit of caution" in use of the Coro Foundation's incorporation study for Orinda was urged Monday night by Ken Norris, director of Coro's consulting research department.

"We've done four incorporation studies during the past year," Norris told the "Town Hall" meeting at Orinda School auditorium. "Reactions generally are to the effect that (1) the report has such 'prestige' that it can't be assailed or that (2) the report is too liberal, too conservative, etc.

"In the report a possible tax rate for the first year is given. But this is not so much a picture of exactly what Orinda is likely to have, but a comparison with similar communities.

"The information from county offices and other sources was as of the moment only, when we issued the report some two months ago.

"This information serves its most useful purpose if it serves to make the people think about incorporation. Therefore the report makes no recommendation for or against Orinda incorporation."

Commuters Hear Orinda-Concord Freeway Plans

Plans for the Orinda-Concord freeway were described Tuesday by Albert E. Simmons, district design engineer of the Division of Highways of the California Department of Public Works, at the annual membership meeting of the Contra Costa County Commuters Association.

Simmons illustrated his talk with colored highway maps and gave a general background of state highway problems, allocation of funds, and the manner in which freeways are planned.

There were questions from the floor about safety islands, estimated construction costs, highway, capacity measurements, and the make-up of the Board of Highway Commissioners, who allocate the ensuing year's construction projects each fall.

Simmons said the commission is expected to announce the 1955-56

City Feasible, Speakers Inform 'Town Hall' Meet

"We will show that it is financially possible for Orinda to incorporate. Whether we do or not is up to the citizens."

With these words Tevis Thompson of the Orinda Association's incorporation study committee started the summary discussion of the Coro Foundation report on Orinda incorporation at Monday night's "Town Hall" meeting at Orinda School auditorium. He continued:

"Orinda is again at the crossroads. Shall we keep Orinda under the county government — or shall we incorporate, and, with the added costs and responsibilities, solve our own problems?"

Thompson was followed by other committee members, first of whom was Ramsay Underwood, who summarized the Coro report section on "The Nature of Orinda." He outlined basic considerations as follows:

1. AREA CHOSEN for the study — Orinda School District (about 22 square miles).

"Norris found approximately 65 per cent of this area undeveloped," Underwood said.

2. Population — Around 10,000 estimated for the central, built-up district.

Based on the state formula of computing gas and auto tax subventions for newly incorporated cities on the basis of multiplying the number of registered voters by three, total population of the entire 22 square miles is estimated at over 13,000.

3. ASSESSED VALUATION—About $13,874,000 for the entire area; about $10,374,000 for the developed one-third.

Of the approximate $3,500,000 assessed valuation in the undeveloped two-thirds, about 75 per cent, or some $2,500,000, is for taxable public utilities.

4. ROADS — "Roads would probably be the largest item of cost for Orinda."

About 87 miles of roads in the 22 square miles; some 78 miles in the developed area, in which about 60 miles are in the county road system.

5. Future growth — About 21,000 population estimated for 1970.

ORINDA SERVICES were discussed by Bill Corbett.

"There are now 16 agencies serving Orinda," he said. "These include five fire, three school, two sanitary and one each for mosquito abatement, water, hospital, flood control, county and state.

"Funds are collected through 19 different tax code districts.

"TEN OF THE AGENCIES require local elections of governing boards. The County Board of Supervisors controls the policies of five agencies.

"The State of California offers highway patrol and highway serv-

1000 Workers Poised for Door-to-Door Canvass as Residential Drive Looms

Almost 1000 volunteers are expected to begin a door-to-door canvass of homes in the Orinda-Lafayette-Walnut Creek-Danville-Pleasant Hill area Monday as the residential drive of the 1954 Diablo Valley Area United Crusade is launched.

Under the overall direction of Fitch Robertson of Walnut Creek, former Mayor of Berkeley, crusade workers are striving to collect a total of $46,800 in the area. (See editorial page — back page.)

AND IF THE EAST Bay United Crusade Drive is successful, $68,000 will be allocated to health and welfare agencies that work in this area. The additional $21,000 would come from commuter donations returned to this area.

Residential drive chairmen who will coordinate the activities of the army of volunteers are Mrs. William Ferguson, Pleasant Hill; Mrs. J. Orr Kyle, Danville; Douglas Cowan, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Edward D. Pike Jr. and Mrs. John A. Sexson, Lafayette, and Mrs. William F. Beckett and Mrs. Robert Woods, Orinda.

Residential quotas are Pleasant Hill, $2500; Danville, $4500; Lafayette, $6000; Orinda, $4500, and Walnut Creek, $8810.

IN ADDITION, QUOTAS set for other divisions of the local crusade are schools, $3600; commerce and industry, $15,890, and public employees, $1000. The drive is already underway in these divisions.

Commenting on the quota for the area, Robertson said, "This is our fair share.

"I feel the United Crusade offers an opportunity to the people of the community to render a service, by volunteering to solicit for the funds necessary, and an opportunity to give money for the youth agencies and others so badly needed by our fast growing communities," he added.

TO BENEFIT FROM the crusade here are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Young Men's Christian Association, Children's Home Society, United Service Organization and White Cane.

Shadelands School for Cerebral Palsied Children, the learn-to-swim program in Mt. Diablo Unified School District, and services rendered here by Children's Hospital of the East Bay and Herrick Memorial Hospital.

If the East Bay Crusade is only partially successful, each agency will get that percentage of its budget that the drive makes of its goal.

THAT IS, SHOULD the compaign only achieve 90 per cent of its goal, participating agencies would be allocated only 90 per cent of their budgets.

Not included in the United Crusade are March of Dimes, Salvation Army, Cerebral Palsy, Red Cross, Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, Heart Association, Cancer Society and Crippled Children's Society, among others.

Funds donated in "give-where-you-work" drives to the San Francisco, Richmond and Marin County United Crusades by commuters will not benefit local agencies as there are no general reciprocity agreements.

The only exchange comes through an agreement between the San Francisco and East Bay Crusades whereby 35 per cent of funds donated by some 40 large companies in San Francisco will be allotted to the East Bay Crusade.

Circulate Petitions Against Rezoning

8-Minute Strike; Commuters Were Ready for More

Central Contra Costa County commuters awakened yesterday morning with the expectation of facing a prolonged Greyhound bus strike.

Instead, they learned that the strike had lasted exactly eight minutes — from 12:01 a.m. to 12:09 a.m.

After the eight minutes, the AFL Motor Coach Employees Union ordered the drivers and station employees back to work, stating that the strike had been settled.

The union obtained a 5½-cents-an-hour wage increase for some 2250 drivers and about 750 station employees in seven western states. The union had originally asked for a 10-cent wage boost.

IF THE STRIKE had extended into commute hours yesterday, it would have found the Contra Costa County Commuters Association ready to aid commuters get to and from their jobs.

In whirlwind action, association officials at 10 a.m. Wednesday started machinery for formation of car pools.

Fourteen hundred sheets were mimeographed, with spaces for commuters to write whether they needed rides, could offer rides or could use their cars in rotating pool groups.

Thirteen hundred of these slips were handed to homebound commuters as they boarded eastbound buses in Oakland and San Francisco.

BY WEDNESDAY NIGHT about 400 of these slips had been filled out. Many of them were brought to The SUN office in Lafayette, which had been designated as an emergency "deposit station" for the information.

Association President John E. McKirahan and Del Armstrong, a past vice-president, sorted the sheets, classifying them.

"We were all set to start matching those needing rides with those offering rides, and to telephone these people, so that transportation would be provided as soon as possible," McKirahan said yesterday.

If the strike had continued, The SUN planned to publish names of commuters needing or offering rides next week.

"ASSOCIATION DIRECTORS responded wonderfully in getting the forms out," McKirahan said.

He paid special tribute to Armstrong, who had the forms mimeographed and supervised their distribution in San Francisco, and to Director Leroy Sowers, who was in charge of distribution in Oakland.

Mild Weather Continues Here

Temperatures continued to be comfortably mild during the past week in the Orinda area, with only a trace of rain recorded on October 7.

High for the week was the 83 registered on October 12, and the low was the 43 for the same day.

Here are the temperatures:

	High	Low
October 7	74	56
October 8	75	52
October 9	76	45
October 10	78	45

Committee Plans Appeal To Board of Supervisors

Protesting the County Planning Commission's action for Retail Business rezoning of the land on the west side of San Pablo Dam Road between the Village and the Crossroads, hundreds of Orindans yesterday had signed an appeal petition to the Board of Supervisors and the commission.

Copies of the petition were circulated at the "Town Hall" meeting at Orinda School auditorium. Mrs. T. D. Sanford reported 164 of the 200 persons at the gathering signed the appeal.

In addition, copies have been distributed to some 50 organizations throughout Orinda, including neighborhood improvement associations.

MITCHELL FARRAR of the Orinda Planning Committee told the Monday night meeting that his committee believes "the commission action is one of political expediency rather than one based on justifiable evidence."

"The next step is to appeal to the Board of Supervisors," he continued.

"We intend to protest vigorously to the Board of Supervisors. It is important that we have 100 per cent representation of the community in the appeal.

"ORINDA IS NOW in the position where we must present our case quickly, definitely, surely — or else we forfeit our case."

The petition states:

"I am a resident of hte Orinda Elementary School District and have followed the subject of planning for this area and, in particular, the problems relative to the zoning of the central portion of Orinda.

"I wish to indicate, by my signature affixed to this petition, that I support the policy of the Orinda Association as expressed through the Orinda Planning Committee relative to the planning of Orinda.

"THIS POLICY is directed toward safeguarding the single-family, suburban residential charcter of Orinda and toward protecting the investment in homes in the community. I understand that this policy, in brief, is as follows:

"1. That a complete master plan for the area comprising the Orinda Elementary School District be developed.

"2. That pending the completion of a master plan for the area comprising the Orinda Elementary School Distirct, a master plan for the central area of Orinda be completed without delay.

"The central area is described more specifically as that portion of Orinda lying approximately one-half mile east and west of the San Pablo Dam Road-Moraga Highway, from Miner Road on the north to Southwood Drive on the south.

"3. THAT ON THE UNDEVELOPED land southwest of the San Pablo Dam Road from the interchange to the Village there be created a new planned unit development adequate to provide properly the shopping facilities needed by the residents of Orinda as outlined in the Violich report, including a diversity and variety of business to adequately serve the every-day family and personal needs of the Orinda area.

"4. That such a planned unit development be created in a well-planned, integrated manner, embodying restrictions which should include:

"a. Site plan for buildings.

"b. Adequate parking properly integrated.

"c. Limited access points.

"d. Set-back provisions.

"e. Size and type of signs, lighting, etc.

"f. Landscaping, and preservation of natural assets as far as possible.

"g. Integrated grading plan.

"h. Height of buildings and other structures.

"i. Types of commercial business permitted in the district.

"j. Architectural integration of the whole.

"5. THAT IN THE master plan for the central area, land northeast of the San Pablo Dam Road be reserved for community development commensurate with the needs of a future estimated population of 21,000.

"6. That there be no zoning for multiple dwelling units in the central area of Orinda.

"7. That, as mentioned in the report of February 11, the future alignment of the San Pablo Dam Road is so significant and important to the final land use plans for the central portion of Orinda that until the location of this important road has been settled, it is unwise to rezone this area."

Sheriff's Men Yank Down Brown Campaign Poster

Sheriff's deputies on duty tore down two Harry A. Brown campaign placards from a telephone pole on Valley Drive in Orinda late Tuesday night and replaced them with a B. W. Richardson campaign placard, Harold V. Libbey of 15 Valley Drive reported yesterday.

When Libbey asked them what they were doing, they drove off in a sheriff's car bearing the California license number 1Y91223.

Later, Libbey was informed by the sheriff's office that the two deputies were "probably Jackson and Dwyer."

Brown and Richardson are opponents in the election for sheriff November 2.

LAST FRIDAY volunteer workers from the Pittsburg area placed a number of small signs for Brown on telephone poles throughout the Walnut Creek - Lafayette - Orinda area.

By Saturday morning, a largt percentage of these signs had been torn down.

Still posted at many places in Central Contra Costa County are Richardson signs put up before the June primary election.

"AT ABOUT 10:55 Tuesday night the sheriff's car stopped at a telephone pole on Valley Drive, off Glorietta Boulevard," Libbey said.

"A deputy sheriff in uniform stepped out, climbed on the fender of the car and took down two Harry A. Brown campaign signs, which he tore up, throwing the pieces on the road. Then he put up a Richardson sign.

"I was on my front lawn. I turned my flashlight on him and asked, What are you doing? He didn't answer, but jumped in the car, in which there was another uniformed deputy, and drove off."

LIBBEY followed them in his car on Orchard Road, going toward the Crossroads. He lost sight of them temporarily, but a short time later found them parked on Moraga Highway about a half-mile from the Crossroads, facing south.

"Not having space to park, I went to the corner of Brookside Road and turned back. As I slowed down, they drove off, going south. I waved and yelled, 'I want to talk to you!' but they kept right on driving. I pursued them past Glorietta Boulevard, then last them.

"After I returned home I got a rake, took down the Richardson sign and tore it to pieces."

ON WEDNESDAY morning Libbey phoned the district attorney's office and reported the incident.

"The man with whom I talked said it was a pretty dirty trick," Libbey said.

Incorporation Is Rotary Subject

Facts on the feasibility of incorporating Orinda were presented Wednesday at the luncheon meeting of the Orinda Rotary Club by Ramsey Underwood, member of the Orinda Association's Incorporation Study Committee. The group met at The Willows.

Two Rotary members Wednesday will present the pro and con side of incorporation, the second meeting devoted to the subject. There will be discussion and a question period.

Residents Fire Questions about Orinda Incorporation

Questions on incorporation came in rapid-fire order from the audience of 200 at the Orinda Association's "Town Hall" meeting at Orinda School auditorium Monday night.

The questions were answered by Association President Zach Montgomery, by incorporation study committee members and by Ken Norris, director of Coro Foundation's consulting service department, and County Road Commissioner Victor W. Sauer.

Committee members who gave answers were chairman Frank Cayting, Ramsay Underwood and Berton Kohler.

Norris prepared the 26-page Coro report on Orinda incorporation for the association. The report was the basis of discussion at the meeting.

HERE ARE SOME of the questions and answers:

Question (by Mrs. T. D. Sanford) — "Would the East Bay Municipal Utility District have the right to stay out of an incorporated Orinda?"

Answer (by Norris) — "My first reaction would be 'No.' Nor can I see any reason for it to stay outside except, possibly, later control of planning and zoning."

Q. — "Would there be any changes in the method of determining assessed valuations? Would this continue to be the responsibility of the county or would we take over?"

A. (Montgomery) — "The system the county uses would probably be the basic system we would use to effect the tax rate." (Cayting) — "Actual tax collection would probably be done by the county on a contractual basis."

Q. — "WOULD THE AUTHORITY for the city tax rate be the county or the city?"

A. (Cayting) — "We would set the tax rate. The assessment rolls of the county would probably be what we'd use."

Q. — "In the first petition, must the signers be 25 per cent of the property owners or 25 per cent of the residents?"

A. (Kohler) — "The petition is one part of the process of incorporation. The signers must be at least 25 per cent of the qualified landowners. Also, the assessed valuation of the land represented by the signers must be at least 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of all the land in the area.

"After the petition is approved by the County Boundary Commission, we go on to further steps and have an election. A simple majority vote decides for or against incorporation."

(Underwood) — "The 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of the land, required to be represented in the first petition, means the land valuation alone — not the buildings. It is the valuation of the land without improvements."

Q. — "IN THE CORO report, was any effort made to establish the amount of absentee ownership of land in the area?"

A. (Cayting) — "No." (Norris) — "We weren't particularly conscious of that matter. We became aware that large sections of land in the fringe area are owned by utilities, a large percentage being owned by EBMUD."

Q. — "Has the committee given consideration to whether the tax rate has remained level or has risen sharply for other comparable cities which have started recently?"

A. (Cayting) — "The committee didn't consider that. The tax rate depends on the services the citizens want. If they want more services, the tax rate goes up."

(Norris) — "Our experience shows that generally during the first year a new city attempts to incorporate on a very low tax rate. The second year the tax rate remains about the same. The third year there is generally a marked increase, and the fourth year is about the same as the third year.

"I WOULD THINK, generally speaking, that the tax rate would go up. There would be pressure for increased services. The city council's job, and that of alert citizens, would be to attempt to keep the tax rate down."

Q. — "Under state law, doesn't a sixth class city have a tax rate limit of $1 per $100 assessed valuation unless a higher rate is voted by the residents?"

A. (Cayting) — "That is correct."

Q. — "The Coro report refers to the low crime level and the absence of juvenile delinquency in Orinda. Why does the suggested budget call for over $44,000 for a police department with five patrolmen and a chief?"

A. (Cayting) — "The report indicates comparison with other cities. We may not need that."

(NORRIS) — "AS OF THE time of incorporation, you would completely lose the services of the sheriff unless an emergency existed." (Loud, general laughter by the audience.) "Also, you'd lose the services of the State Highway Patrol, unless the patrol were needed to do an adequate job."

Q. — "If we incorporated, would we take over all the roads in their present condition, some of them substandard?"

A. (Sauer) — "The county has an aid to cities program for roads of general interest. But your roads would be your problem, your responsibility. However, it's the policy of the Board of Supervisors to give financial aid to cities for roads of general interest. The average of this aid is $1 per capita per year."

Q. — "Are the cities listed in the survey comparable to Orinda?"

A. (Norris) — "Not all are like Orinda. One or two are, like San Anselmo and Millbrae. We attempt to find about 10 cities, to give us an operating range."

(The 10 cities listed as "comparison" cities are Pacific Grove, San Anselmo, Millbrae, Roseville, Tracy, El Monte, Yuba City, Mountain View, Escondido and El Cajon.)

Q. — "WOULD THE BOND issue roads be completed by the county?"

A. (Sauer) — "They would, from bond issue funds voted at the June, 1952, primary. This would be no ob-

Will Hear Facts On Incorporation

Ramsey Underwood, member of the Orinda Association's Incorporation Study Committee, will present facts on the feasibility of incorporating Orinda at the noon luncheon meeting Tuesday of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce. The get-together will be at The Willows.

Ernest Poll urges all members of the Chamber to attend the meeting.

Action on El Toyonal Traffic Hazard Bogs Down; Expect Loma Vista Work

Ineffective negotiations for improving the blind curve at the intersection of El Toyonal, Loma Vista, La Madronal and Madrone Place were revealed this week by James G. Hupp, chairman of the Committee on Safety and Public Welfare of the Hacienda Improvement Association.

Hupp said he received a copy of a letter from the county road commissioner's office stating that "an endeavor was made several years ago to secure right of way from the East Bay Municipal Utility District to improve this corner, but the price placed by that company, upon the additional right of way needed, was not satisfactory to the county and negotiations were not continued."

The letter went on to say that "the Highway Department is cognuizant of the serious situation at this intersection and the matter will again be taken up with the East Bay Municipal Utility District in an endeavor to come to a satisfactory agreement."

HOWEVER, a bright note for residents of Orinda Park Terrace and Lake Orinda Highlands is the fact that the highway department hopes to improve another narrow curve near 79 Loma Vista "as soon as possible."

In its original letter, addressed to George Hauerken, chairman of the Orinda Association's Road Committee, the department said:

"INCLUDED IN this year's budget is a sum sufficient to widen the narrow turn opposite 79 Loma Vista and, when field engineering forces are available, the survey will be made and the right of way obtained to do the necessary grading.

"Due to the heavy load of construction on bond issue projects, the exact date when this survey will be accomplished is not known, but an endeavor will be made to do the work as soon as possible . . . The actual reconstruction of the curve will probably not take place until the spring of 1955."

REGARDING THE El Toyonal intersection, Hupp said it "has been the scene of many accidents and sooner or later there will be a fatality here if some improvements are not made."

The Highway Department letter said that funds for the immediate reconstruction of the intersection are not available in this year's budget and would have to be deferred to a later date, probably until the 1955-56 budget.

Hupp originally wrote Hauerken on the two traffic hazard problems, and the latter contacted Road Commissioner Victor W. Sauer for further information. He sent a copy of Sauer's letter to Hupp.

Candidates Night Place Changed to Las Lomas High

The place of a League of Women Voters sponsored candidates night October 27 at 8 p. m. has been changed from Concord to Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek.

The change was made "in order to afford the candidates the widest possible audience within the community," spokesmen said.

Congressional candidates Robert L. Condon and John Baldwin, assembly candidates Donald Doyle and Edward Munns and sheriff candidates Harry Brown and B. W. Richardson will all speak.

Superintendent James Dent of the Mt. Diablo Unified School District will moderate for the sponsors, a national non-partisan women's organization which seeks to promote political responsibility.

Residents Ask About Incorporation

ligation on the city."

Q. — "Regarding relocation of San Pablo Dam Road — suppose that project, if approved, costs more than the bond issue funds appropriated?"

A. (Sauer) — "In my opinion, that would make no difference. It's a major county road. From the Crossroads to Richmond, it's a bond issue road."

Replying to a request for clarification, Sauer said he believed "moving it would be part of the bond issue program."

Q. — "IF A PETITION for incorporation boundaries is forthcoming, could we proceed fast enough so we could have control of our zoning and planning problems? Or would we be 'locking the barn after the horse is stolen'?"

A. (Montgomery) — "The process of incorporating would take well over a year. Decision on the present zoning problem is going to be effected in the next 30 to 60 days.

"The only thing you can do about the present zoning problem is to sign the protest petition now being circulated and to talk to your neighbors about it."

Q. (Mitchell Farrar) — "Would the county take over maintenance of roads on a contractual basis?"

A. (Sauer) — "That's a policy matter, to be decided by the Board of Supervisors."

Q. — "IS IT TRUE that the move for incorporation of Happy Valley, Lafayette, has not been successful?"

A. (Underwood) — "Petitions are being circulated. I don't know how far along they've gone. There's a group for incorporation and a group against incorporation. Obviously, 80 per cent of the people are in the middle."

(Underwood lives in Happy Valley and participated in the Happy Valley Improvement Association's study on incorporation.)

President Oliver Hamlin of the Lafayette Improvement Association, who was in the audience, was asked by Underwood to tell of the status of the incorporation issue in Lafayette proper.

"AT A PUBLIC MEETING last June the proposal to take steps toward incorporation was voted down strenuously," Hamlin said. "We've been going through this subject thoroughly the past two years.

"There were two principal objections at the June meeting — the unknown quantity of costs and the desire of several fringe areas to be excluded. Opposition was mainly from outlying areas.

"At the present time we are watching developments in other areas. We have not progressed any further since June."

Hamlin said the proposed tax rate for an incorporated Lafayette had been "approximately $1."

ERNEST SPIEGL, who had served as an Orinda Association observer at meetings of the Lafayette Improvement Association's incorporation study committee, asked:

"Isn't it a fact that many of the outlying areas wanted incorporation separately?"

"Only Happy Valley, that I know of," Hamlin replied.

Another questioner asked if an incorporated Orinda could prevent a "waterfront development" — "could we control bars and mercantile development?"

Farrar answered, "I would say, offhand, that we could come pretty close to doing that."

Be Consistent in Disciplining Child Says Psychologst

Mothers who often wonder whether they are being too strict or too lenient with their children were interested to hear the opinions of Dr. Evelyn Berger, Oakland psychologist, who spoke Wednesday night at the general meeting of the Orinda Nursery School Association.

Dr. Berger maintains that it is not important whether a parent is very strict or very lenient as long as he is consistently one or the other. Successful discipline, the speaker said depends on a mother's setting certain limits for a child's behavior and then adhering to them firmly and, if possible, cheerfully.

SPANKING, DR. BERGER declared, when used on all occasions where punishment is indicated, shows a lack of resourceful thinking on the part of parents. There are times when a quick swat is the only practical measure, the psychologist said, but generally speaking it is better to verbalize.

Dr. Berger, who is the director of the Psychological Consultation Center in Oakland, also stated that psychologists are partly to blame for mothers sometimes being a little afraid of their own children. Parents, she said, have been confused by the changing theories of experts.

Following the lecture, Mrs. Forest Hill, program chairman, reviewed the programs for the coming months and announced that the date for the annual Spring Dance has been set for May 21.

CANDID SNAPSHOTS of Tuesday-Thursday nursery school children taken by photographer Robert Overstreet of Martinez were on display during the evening. It was announced that Monday - Wednesday-Friday children will be photographed on Monday, October 27.

Refreshments were served by hostess Mrs. W. L. Yager and her assistants, Mesdames Jack Kramer, Maurice Bleuel, David Lawis, John Williams, Sherburne Cook, Robert Desmond, and Glen Carter.

Nursery school will be closed Monday, October 25, Teachers' Institute Day.

Award Contract For Reservoirs

Contracts for two new 1,000,000 gallon reservoirs have just been warded by the East Bay Municipal Utility District, Thomas S. Neilson, EBMUD director, announced recently.

The first of these, Las Aromas Reservoir, will be located in Orinda at an elevation of 928 feet above sea level, just to the south of the intersection of Las Vegas and Via Floreado. It replaces a small wooden tank, which has been dismantled.

Edward Smith, contractor of San Leandro, received the contract awards, which total $148,522.82. They were the lowest of three firms bidding.

The two reservoirs, the other of which will be at the northern end of Tilden Regional Park, will be constructed of pre-stressed steel reinforced concrete.

"These two new filtered water storage reservoirs are scheduled for completion within 300 calendar days, and when placed in use will provide improved service for the surrounding areas which they serve," Neilson said.

"The utility district is constantly at work expanding and improving its system in order to adequately meet the water needs of our fast-growing East Bay area, and this is just part of that program."

King, Twomey Now at U. of San Francisco

Two residents of Orinda have completed their registrations at the University of San Francisco and are among the more than 2500 students attending classes there. They are Robert G. King, 12 Scenic Drive, in Liberal Arts, and John C. Twomey, 100 Van Ripper Lane, in Business.

Delayed Action: Nurse Finally Gets Approval

It looks like Mrs. Kenneth Holcomb of 5 El Nido wil be able to practice nursing in California after all.

Seems that seven years ago she applied for a California nurse's license, but was refused by the Board of Nurse Examiners on the grounds that her Ohio nurse's training had been in a 90-bed hospital. California requirement: 100-bed hospital experience.

Now the mother of three children, Mrs. Holcomb recently received word that her application had been reviewed and under present policy, she is eligible to practice nursing in California — provided she forward $10 as a credential.

A registered nurse from Ohio, Mrs. Holcomb seryed as a Navy nurse in Australia during World War 11. She married Dr. Kenneth Holcomb in Honolulu.

Start First Aid At Glorietta

Glorietta School is the location of a new standard first aid class, starting Tuesday at 7:30 p.m.

Frank Williams, first aid chairman for Mt. Diablo Chapter, American Red Cross, says that only a few vacancies remain and that those interested should sign up at once. William Koch will be the instructor, and may be reached at CL 4-2371.

Seaman Donates Blood to Red Cross in Hong Kong

Josep H. Engelsman, seaman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence P. Engelsman of 21 Los Dedos, is among the 77 crew members of the escort vessel U.S.S. Walton who recently answered a plea by the Hong Kong, B.C.C., branch of the British Red Cross Society for voluntary blood donors.

The blood collected is used throughout the colony and is free to all doctors who require it for their patients, irrespective of nationality or creed.

The Walton is an escort vessel at present serving as station ship, Hong Kong, under the operational control of Commander U. S. Naval Forces, Philippines.

Neddersen Named Acting Business Manager for UC

Richard H. Neddersen of 254 Overhill Road has been named acting business manager for the University of California, replacing William J. Norton, who retired on October 1.

Neddersen, who is married and the father of two boys, was formerly U.C. resident hall supervisor and assistant business manager under Norton.

A U.C. graduate in 1937, he served in the U.S. Army during World War II and was discharged as a colonel in the infantry. He's been U. C. assistant business manager since his return from service in 1946.

Happy Birthday to You

DAVID DOOLITTLE

A marvelous birthday cake for a train-conscious 4-year-old! A complete animal freight train cut out of cake! The engine was frosted in chocolate, a coal car was filled with chocolate chips, behind that ran 14 separate cars, each a different color and with an animal riding on top, and following behind was a pink and white caboose.

All this for little David Doolittle, who presided over his circus train birthday table as host. Lucky guests were Kenny Bernard, Alex Frazer, Larry Walsh, Susan Kjar, Robin Langsdale, Clifford Chappell, Karen Byers, Casey Moeser, Kathy Bloomfield, Mary Kay Ivanetich, Tina Stanley, Tamsen Kling and Sherry Baird.

CHRISTINE BLOCK

Christine Block's ninth birthday was celebrated September 4 with carnival games outdoors. A record was kept of prize winners for the many games of skill and chance, and Sharon Mitchell was the grand prize winner, with Milo Ann Hecathorn running a close second.

Christine's guests were Ann Marie Lincoln, Sharon Mitchell and Brownie troop members Milo Ann Hecathorn, Carol Courant, Toni Brothers, Lorna Wallace, Clorinda Telfer, Valerie Renwick, Kathy Bergesen, Vicki Schacht, Laurie Gail Christie, Marsha Mjolnes, Ginny Phair, Marcia Ray and Susan Rochester.

Mothers Club to Hear Talk on Child Relations

Dr. Bernice Baxter of Oakland will speak on the relation of the child to his teacher and school at a general meeting of the Orinda Mothers Club in the all-purpose room of the Glorietta School. The session will begin at 1:30 p.m., according to Mrs. Coleman Huntley, board president.

A board meeting was held Tuesday, at which time Mrs. Harry Minor, membership chairman, announced that 100 per cent membership in the recent drive has been reached, with $1211 collected.

POT LUCK SUPPERS will be held for each school on the following dates: Del Rey, October 27; Sleepy Hollow, October 28; Glorietta, November 3; and Orinda, November 10. Teachers will provide the entertainment for each supper, under the direction of Mr. Isola.

An announcement was made that funds raised for the year which ended in June totalled $2,414.11.

All children in the Orinda School District will be weighed and measured in the next two weeks.

The Mothers Club was requested to cooperate with the committee working to provide the community with a public library building. The county will then stock the library with reading material.

The board unanimously voted fluoridation for Orinda's water system.

Mrs. M. G. Hooper, bridge chairman, will start a bridge session for beginners if enough interested players are found.

EIGHTH GRADE DANCES will be held the fourth Friday of each month, with instruction by Mr. and Mrs. George Clifford. These will cost $7 per child. Seventh grade dances will be held the first and third Tuesdays under the direction of Mr. Isola. There are to be five social dances for these classes during the year.

Announcement was made of the Children's Theatre to be held at Acalanes High School on October 20, 21 and 22. Tickets will be $2.

Plans for the fashion show which will take place in February are under way. Mrs. Berton Kohler, project chairman, will handle business and finance, and Mrs. James L. MacDonald will be general chairman of the fashion show. Details will be announced later.

School District Backs UN Return Here in 1955

The Orinda Union School District last week endorsed through resolution a proposal that the United Nations be officially invited to convene in San Francisco next year on the tenth anniversary of its founding.

Copies of the resolution will be sent to Dag Hammarskjold, UN Secretary General, Elmer Robinson, mayor of San Francisco, the Press and Union League Club in San Francisco, and to the press.

The resolution says that the school district ". . . strongly endorses the proposal (of the Press & Union League Club of San Francisco) that the United Nations be officially invited to convene its General Assembly in 1955, in the city of San Francisco, and we give our support and offer our cooperation to bring about the success of this undertaking."

Retired Five Years, Now Opens Gift Shop in Oakland

Pack 52 Cubs to Hold Second Annual 'Harvest Fair' Benefit on Oct. 23

Pack 52 Cubs will open the gates at 10 a.m. Saturday, October 23, on their second annual "Harvest Fair" at the Glorietta School. A larger selection of games of skill and a greater number and variety of prizes promises a grand time for everyone — whether they're 6 or 60.

Money from the benefit affair is used to cover operational expenses of the 10 dens in Pack 52 and to do their Christmas charity work. Last year three needy families were aided through the Red Cross and a Christmas party was given at Friendship House in North Richmond, complete with gifts, party eats, clothing and toys.

AMONG THE GAMES of skill to be found in the many fair booths will be: "Bucking Bronco," a challenge to young cowboys to see how long they can stay on the bronc; "Ring The Bell," a test of hitting the swinging cow bell with a tennis ball; "Loop The Ducks," throwing embroidery hoops over live ducks' heads; "Loop A Gold Nugget," tossing a rubber jar ring; "Horse Shoe Pitch;" Cork Gun Shoot;" "Fireman Save My House;" "Crazy Man Golf;" "Loop and Twist Balls;" and dozens more.

Cartoons featuring Donald Duck and Mickey Mouse and a movie will be shown in the beautiful new all purpose room at the Glorietta Schol. There will also be a fire engine ride, pony rides, and hot rod races.

Big attraction is the prize turkey. The lucky winner will take "Tom" home on a leash. He'll make a delightful pet, guaranteed to scare the neighbors' dogs and cats away.

Also featured will be a kitten auction, with dozens of kittens going to the highest bidder.

RESIDENTS ARE URGED to come to the fair at 10 a.m. and plan to eat their lunch there. Concessions will stay open until 2 p.m. Hot dogs, ice cream, cookies, soft drinks and coffee will be sold at nominal prices throughout the day. Price of tickets for the concessions will be five cents.

Last year 3,500 five cent tickets were purchased in the four-hour period the fair was on.

Besides Christmas work, another project was undertaken last year with fair money. The new Del Rey School was in need of backstops for the playground. Pack 52 purchased the material, and the cub fathers, directed by Cubmaster Ernie Rahmeyer, erected two backstops which have since been used and enjoyed by everyone attending or living near the Del Rey School.

Pack 52 hopes to be able to undertake many more worthwhile projects this year with their fair money.

Scouts to Collect Scrap Tomorrow

Orinda's first combination rag, old clothes, newspaper and magazine drive will reach a climax tomorrow when Troop 207 Boy Scouts revisit homes to pick up filled sacks and bundles of newspapers.

Proceeds from the scout drive, which started a few weeks ago, will go into the fast-growing fund with which the boys will soon be able to complete the purchase of a seeing eye dog for a blind person.

ALL MATERIAL COLLECTED during the drive will be loaded into two large vans located in Bridwell's lot in Orinda Village.

The scouts would be most grateful to any residents who are able to deliver their papers and rags to the vans in the village.

Hundreds of burlap sacks distributed to nearby homes are being used to collect old rags and discarded items of clothing, including worn or torn dresses, shirts, suits, coats, sheets, towels, blankets and even felt hats.

RESIDENTS GIVEN the sacks were asked to make the drive successful by urging their neighbors to help fill up the burlaps. Newspapers also will be gladly received and should be tied in bundles of about 25 pounds.

Parents of many of the scouts will help the youths in the collection tomorrow. Jerry Cullen is scoutmaster of Troop 207.

Pack 212 Cubs Receive Awards

Cub Scout Pack 212 met Friday night, October 8, in Fellowship Hall at the Orinda Community Church. The flag ceremony was led by Roger Roos, Dick Anderson and Bobby Clifford.

Cubmaster Carl Dudley presented awards to the following boys: Assistant Denner Stripe to Jim Crall, Bobby Lee, Steve Beckett; Denner stripes to Mike Gilmore, Bobby Ross, George Hauer; Wolf to Hall Clement; Silver on Wolf to Greg Searich, Eric Ramsing, George Hauer; Gold on Bear and Silver on Bear to John Davison.

Lion awards were received by Bobby Clifford, Roger Roos and Dick Anderson. They also received Gold on Lion and Silver on Lion Arrow points.

Inducted as Bobcats were Mike Yedidia, Tim Pardini, Ted Schilling and Billy Cooper. Introduced to the pack were Kit Nelson, a transfer, and future Cubs Danny Williams, Roy Hoyer and John Watkins.

An impressive Webelos ceremony was conducted by Bruce Howard for Jack Gilbert, Tom Kirby, Barry Howard, Roger Hoyer, John Thurston, Stephen Smith, Gary Swedberg, Tim Sheldon and Charles Aberham.

Later the cubs were entertained by a magician's act. The theme for the next pack meeting will be "Musical Hoedown," the entertainment being provided by the dens.

Drive carefully through residential streets and save a child's life.

Spurt of Activity Qualifies SPUD For CCCSD Annex

By a concerted drive over the weekend, Southern Public Utility District directors were able to get enough signatures to qualify their district to annex by petition to Central Contra Costa Sanitary District, it was announced this week.

Their spurt of action followed discouragement last week caused by the revelation their belief they had obtained approval from owners of 94 per cent of the land was incorrect due to an error in computing total assessed valuation of the area.

Included in SPUD, which has been plagued by inadequate sewage facilities for a long period of time, are three tracts in Danville, Cameo Acres, Las Lomitas and Vista Grande.

A public hearing on the proposed annexation will be held before CCSD directors October 21. State law provides that when more than 75 per cent of the assessed valuation of an area is represented on petitions, annexation can be completed without an election.

The earlier belief that 94 per cent of the valuation had been signed up was based on a figure of $485,000 for the total valuation.

However, it was learned that this total was computed in error on the basis of net, not gross, valuations, and the correct figure is $803,000.

The door-to-door drive followed discussion between SPUD and CCCSD directors last week, and enough additional signers were obtained to raise the total on petitions to $641,905. This is about 80 per cent of the total, or about 5 per cent more than is necessary.

League Women to Hear of Master Plan for County

"The Master Plan of Contra Costa County" will be discussed Wednesday by Thomas J. Heaton, director of planning, and Richard Stockwell, associate county planner, when they speak to members of the Women's Planning League at 12:30 p.m. at the Casa Adobe in Concord.

League members will have an opportunity to learn of progress on the Master Plan and to ask questions pertinent to the subject, according to Mrs. Harold Davis of Walnu Creek, vice-president who is in charge of the luncheon program.

Mrs. Deane Furman, member of the Board of Directors from Kensington, will head the reception committee and will welcome the following leaders of women's organizations throughout the county who will be be guests of honor: Mrs. A. R. Tate, president of the Women's City Club of Richmond; Mrs. Wilhelm Schaser, president of the Richmond League of Women Voters; Mrs. Guy Savage, president of the Parent Teacher's Council of Richmond; Mrs. David Calfee, Richmond member of the County Park Commission; Mrs. William Roark, president of the Junior Women's Club of Richmond; Mrs. W. H. Walter, president of the Women's Club of Martinez; Mrs. Paul Birkholm, president of the Pittsburg Women's Club; Mrs. James Hanges, president of the PTA Council of Pittsburg; and Mrs. Edmund D. Leonard, president of the PTA Council of El Cerrito.

School Financing To Be Discussed

School financing in all its aspects will be discussed by a group of experts at the general meeting of AAUW on October 20.

Sheldon Rankin, Superintendent of Walnut Creek Elementary School District; Owen J. Cook, assistant superintendent of Mt. Diablo Unified School District; DeWitt Krueger, member of the Walnut Creek School Board, and John Buckland, parent, will comprise the panel.

The meeting will take place at 8 p.m. at the Walnut Creek Women's Club under the direction of Mrs. John Buckland, education chairman. This will be a meeting of community interest open to the husbands and friends of members.

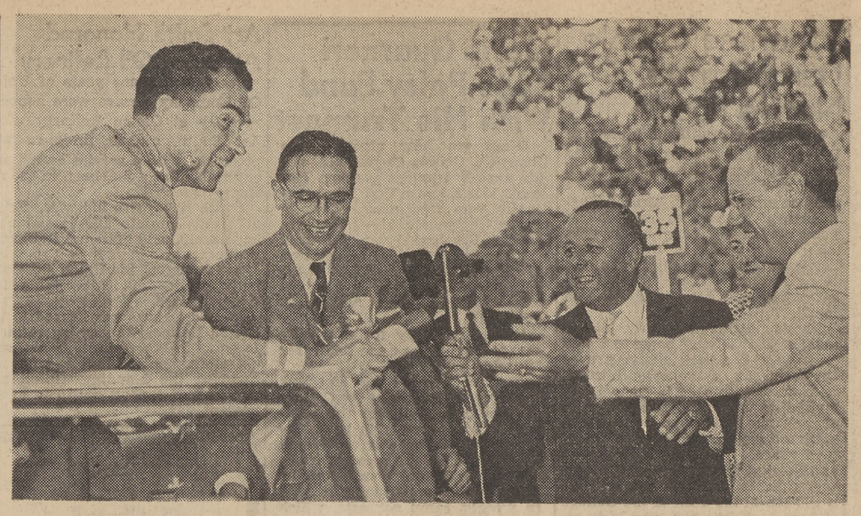

Baha'i Group Holds Barbecue

The Baha'i group of Contra Costa County held a barbecue October 3 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Ioas of Pleasant Hill. The party was held to welcome Major Gorton West of Lafayette as a member of the Baha'i.

In addition to the hosts and their daughters, Carol and Barbara, local Bahais present included: Mrs. Anne Bishop of Walnut Creek; Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Wadleigh of Lafayette, and their son, Tom Furgason; Mr. and Mrs. M. G. West of Lafayette, and their children, Barbara, Grandon, David and Dickie; and Mr. and Mrs. Jorgen I. Madsen of Alamo, and their children, Robin and Robert Bean and Mark Madsen.

Guests included: Mr. and Mrs. Fred Knobel of Lafayette, with their sons, Richard and Philip; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Gaines of Pleasant Hill, with Kathie and Tom Jr.; Mr. and Mrs. Eric Berthold of Pleasant Hill, with Robbie; Mr. and Mrs. Bert Vaughn of Lafayette, and daughter Lisa, and Mrs. Wadleigh's mother and cousin, Mrs. Julia Traverse of Oakland, and Mrs. Julia Resch of Pasadena, who are houseguests at the Wadleigh home in Lafayette.

Local Baha'i discussion groups and youth study groups are held each Monday evening at the homes of various members. Anyone interested is invited to contact the chairman, Mrs. M. G. West, at YE 4-8860.

"I'LL GIVE 'EM TO THE MRS. so she can see walnuts from where they really grow them," Vice President Richard Nixon said Monday as a bag of the local product was presented to him in Walnut Creek as he stopped for a few moments. The party then drove on through Lafayette and Orinda to Berkeley. Presenting the local product is congressional candidate John Baldwin. Mayor E. C. Vice President Nixon Urges Support For Baldwin in Swing Through County

A relaxed and cordial Vice President Richard M. Nixon stopped in Walnut Creek Monday afternoon just long enough to shake hands with Mayor and Mrs. E. C. Counter and say a few words in behalf of John Baldwin, Republican candidate for congress from the sixth district.

Arriving an hour late, after having been slowed down elsewhere during a jam-packed day of campaigning throughout the county, Nixon expressed his regret at having to hasten on his way to Lafayette, Orinda and Berkeley.

With him in an open convertible, were Baldwin and several others. Nixon described Baldwin as "a man well qualified for the post" and urged that local voters give him support.

DURING HIS BRIEF STOP, he was presented a key to the City of Walnut Creek by Mayor Counter, a bronzed replica, about six inches in length, to which was attached a medallion with King Walnut pictured on one side and an inscription on the other.

The brief ceremony was witnessed by some 50 citizens who had gathered on the steps of the City Hall. Among them were a number of school children.

The Vice President's entourage entered the city along Ygnacio Avenue, pulled up in front of the City Hall, and left a few minutes later, going down Main Street to Mt. Diablo and on through Lafayette and Orinda.

ALSO PRESENT to welcome Nixon were Republican leaders from the area, including King Parker Jr., City Attorney John Nejedly and others.

Later Monday night, the Vice President spoke at a $100-a-plate fund-raising dinner in the Richmond Municipal Auditorium.

He told the crowd of some 2000 that Contra Costa and Solano Counties "cannot afford to take a chance" by returning Condon to Congress to vote on issues affecting the national security "in this atomic era."

Nixon was introduced by Baldwin and Hollywood actor George Murphy, former State Republican Committee Chairman and master of ceremonies for the evening.

THE SPEECH was filmed for a Tuesday night telecast over Station KOVR, Channel 13, Stockton.

Nixon defended the 20 months of the Eisenhower administration and declared that 1954 is the most prosperous peacetime year in America's history.

Saying that the President must have a congressional majority upon which he can depend, Nixon added, "I am sure that Democrats as well as Republicans will recognize that Mr. Baldwin is the man best qualified by background and philosophy to represent this district."

POLITICAL POT

Baldwin Rally Slated Wednesday

Vice President Richard Nixon in the introduction of his speech in Richmond Monday evening urged the people of Contra Costa County to attend the Baldwin Bandwagon Rally to be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday at Acalanes High School, 1200 Pleasant Hill Road, Lafayette.

Movie actor George Murphy will appear in person to headline the Hollywood entertainment revue which will feature singers, dancers, comedians and a well known jazz band. Admission is free.

JOHN BALDWIN, candidate for Congress, will address the gathering with a message containing facts previously not given by him, according to Mrs. Vad Jelton, who is in charge of the affair.

Demorats for Baldwin and members of Republican clubs from all parts of the county will congregate at Martinez and Richmond one hour before the rally to form two large outo caravans which will parade through Contra Costa and meet at Acalanes High School.

Following the Richmond speech by Vice President Nixon that urged voters to turn the incumbent out of office and elect John Baldwin, the "Bandwagon Rally" is expected to draw over a thousand people.

Area chairman William Anderson will be assisted by Mrs. Thomas Barrows and Dr. Ronald Light of Orinda; Mrs. William Freeman, Mel Nielsen and Mrs. Raymond P. Tolles of Lafayette; Mrs. Frank Young and Matt Connelly of Walnut Creek; Jack Gillan of Pleasant Hill, and Alfred Jones of Alamo.

ADDITIONAL OFFICIALS to be present are Harmon Howard, county central committee chairman; Mrs. Joseph Du Bois, Richmond Democrats for Baldwin; Lindsay Spight, United Finance; James Moriarity, county Young Republican president, and Joseph Creighton, state Young Republican president.

"This is the biggest affair of its kind that Contra Costa County has ever had," said Mrs. Jelton.

Demo Jamboree

Contra Costa Democrats will hold an old-fashioned "Jamboree" tonight at the Richmond Memorial Auditorium. Invitations may be secured by a contribution to the United Democratic Campaign.

Richard Graves, Democratic nominee for governor, will be guest of honor. Others who will appear include Assemblyman George Collins Jr., Democratic nominee for state comptroller; Congressman Robert L. Condon, Assemblman S. C. Masterson and Assembly nominee Edward N. Munns of the 10th District.

The affair will be preceeded by a $25-per-plate dinner at the Cerrito City Club. Dancing to music by Henry Gallagher's orchestra will begin at 8:30 p.m.

Baldwin for Cuts In Taft-Hartley

"Elimination of present inequities in labor laws and elimination of the so-called 'union busting' provision of the Taft-Hartley Act are of primary importance," John Baldwin, candidate for Congress from the Sixth District, stated at a recent meeting in Shore Acres near Pittsburg.

He added that he favors elimination of the Taft-Harley requirement that union negotiators must sign a non-Communist oath. He stated that this is unfair because such an oath is not required of employers.

Baldwin pointed out that President Eisenhower stated at the AFL Convention in Los Angeles that he would recommend these changes to the next Congress.

Raeburn Speaks In Walnut Creek

Daniel Raeburn, Democratic candidate for Secretary of State, was among the honored guests who spoke to Central Contra Costa Democrats Tuesday night at Las Lomas High School in Walnut Creek.

A newspaper publisher in Santa Monica, Raeburn has a background as a labor union representative.

He is running for a state office which, he points out, has been held by Frank C. Jordan and his father before him, the late Frank M. Jordan, for a total of 42 years.

Raeburn says that the Secretary of State is responsible for policing the activities of collection agencies and charges that Jordan "has failed to protect the working people of California against the abuses and strong-arm tactics of certain collection agencies."

Condon Kicks Off Campaign Here

Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle and Democratic Assembly candidate Edward N. Munns appeared jointly as guests of honor at the Condon Kick-Off Dinner in Antioch last Friday evening.

Other guests included Judge John Garaventa of Concord and Sheriff candidate Harry Brown of Alamo.

Condon delivered another in a series of attacks on the Eisenhower Administration, charging that it represented the controlling interests of big business and the banking groups of New York, Chicago, Boston and Cleveland, rather than the whole of the American people.

Heads Baldwin Group in Alamo

Alfred Jones, vice president of the San Ramon Valley Young Republicans, has accepted chairmanship of the Baldwin for Congress Committee in Alamo, it was reported this week.

A active civic leader, Jones has lived in the Alamo area all his life. Upon receiving his appointment he predicted that Baldwin will 'be one of the nation's outstanding congressmen."

Brown Signs Fair Campaign Code

Lt. Harry A. Brown of Alamo, candidate for sheriff, has signed the Fair Campaign Practices Code, it was reported this week by Mrs. Gertrude Walker, campaign chairman.

"Lt. Brown's signing this pledge re-emphasizes his desire to run a clean political campaign, devoid of scandal, scurrilous attacks and rumor," Mrs. Walker said.

AAUW Unit Asks Shoreline Park Fund Allotment

"That at least $100,00" be allocated for development of shoreline parks by the Board of Supervisors to match state funds has been requested by the Walnut Creek Branch of American Association of University Women.

The women's group congratulated the board for completion of the present shoreline plan and appointment of a County Park Commission while suggesting county funds be appropriated to match state funds so these "well made plans may be put into effect."

"WE FEAR THAT by next year some of the valuable sites for parks may not be available," President Mrs. Ralph C. Olberg of Walnut Creek said.

"We strongly feel the 1955 county budget should include a substantial fund for park acquisition and that subsequent years should provide continued funds until the county has an adequate park system," she said.

State allocation of $100,000 is dependent upon the county's presentation of a master plan before January 1, 1955, and its willingness to match the state grant.

THE DEVELOPMENT plan now includes six shoreline sites with two others in the Richmond area scheduled for inclusion if local differences are settled soon.

Mrs. Olberg also said, "We know, too, that no money is allotted for inland parks. The historic Alvarado home has been torn down, despite the fact that state was interested in that unique landmark."

Ground Observers Aid Interception Of Nine Planes

On the front page of last Saturday's Oakland Tribune was an article on the interception of nine unidentified planes by jet fighters from Hamilton Air Froce Base. This article was of particular interest to the Lafayette Ground Observer Corps for, although the local "skywatch" post was not mentioned by name, it played a part in the brief air drama.

The post serves the Lafayette - Orinda - Walnut Creek area.

According to the Tribune story, the nine "bomber type planes" were reported to the Oakland Filter Center first by prisoners at the Soledad State Prison, where a GOC post is maintained, and jet planes were dispatched to intercept.

THE INTERCEPTED planes were Air Force tankers on a routine mission, flight plans for which had apparently been delayed through error and had not been received by the Filter Center.

However, due to prompt and accurate reporting by GOC spotters, the planes were intercepted and identified within a matter of minutes.

At the time of the incident, Hugh Webster of Camino Colorados, Lafayette, keeping a lone watch at the Lafayette post, spotted the lights of the nine planes and called the Oakland Filter Center for the usual report.

INSTEAD OF the usual "Check. Thank You," Webster was told, "We've been waiting for this report from your post." It was needed to "get a track," or pinpoint, the location of the then unidentified planes.

Lieut. Francis D. Kelley, supervisor of the Filter Center, was quoted as saying:

"This is typical of the important job the ground observers are doing in the detection of unknown aircraft.

"SOME DAY these aircraft may not be friendly, but with the alertness shown by the civilian volunteers . . . we can rest assured that they will not reach their target undetected."

Persons interested in plane spotting may obtain further information by calling Mrs. Isabelle Salisbury, post supervisor, at AT 3-2691.

Graves on Tour Of Contra Costa County Today

Richard P. Graves, Democratic nominee for Governor, will tour his home county of Contra Costa today, campaign co-chairman Supervisor Ivan T. Goyak of Richmond and City Councilman Martin Rothenberg of Pittsburg have announced.

Graves will arrive at the San Pablo City Hall, 10:30 a. m. He is scheduled to arrive in Martinez at noon for a "no-host" luncheon at the 724 Club.

SUPERVISOR Jack Cummings and city officials will be at the luncheon to greet Graves. Following the luncheon, the candidate will tour Martinez and then leave for a meeting in front of the Gregory Gardens Shopping Center at 2:15 p. m.

At 3 p. m. he is scheduled to speak at the Concord Library where he will be greeted by Judge John L. Garaventa. From Concord he will go to Pittsburg.

GRAVES IS SCHEDULED to arrive at a fund-raising dinner in the Cerrito City Club at 6 p. m., sponsored by the Democratic County Central Committee.

Later that evening, he will arrive at the Richmond Memorial Auditorium to participate in the Democrats' Jamboree.

George Collins, candidate for controller; George E. Johnson, candidate for treasurer; Congressman Robert L. Codon, Assemblyman S. C. Masterson and Assembly nominee Ed Munns are expected to be with Graves at various stops during the day and at the Jamboree in the evening.

Four Productions By Childrens' Theater Planned

School children will learn Monday of four plays to be given for them at Acalanes High School this season.

The youngsters will receive information about the Children's Theater series in schools of Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Alamo and Danville.

PTA representatives are directing the program for each school. In Walnut Creek, Mrs. J. G. Jensen and Mrs. Howard Rudiger, for Buena Vista; Mrs. Donald MacVean for Parkmead; Mrs. Martin Manders for Walnut Creek Grammar; and Mrs. R. N. Maddux for Walnut Heights.

Danville Grammar School will be handled by Mrs. Martin Evinger and Mrs. Russel Wilgue; Charlotte Wood by Mrs. Gladys Yates and Mrs. W. L. Kingen; and Green Valley by Mrs. James Berryhill and Mrs. William Owsley. In Alamo, Mrs. Frank H. Buck will provide the information and tickets for children of Stone Valley and Alamo Schools.

IN ORINDA schools, Mrs. Haywood Gathings will direct the programs, and Mrs. Will Hall is in charge of the Lafayette area.

The first play, "The Four Musicians of Bremen," will be presented November 6. This is the third season of plays presented by the East Bay Children's Theater at Acalanes High School.

Adolescence Topic For Anthropologist

Central Contra Costa County's Mental Health Society will bring Dr. David G. Mandelbaum, University of California professor of anthropology, to the Parkmead Elementary School in Walnut Creek Wednesday night in the second of a series on "Adolescence."

His lecture is entitled "Preparing Their Youth—Adolescence in Other Societies."

A graduate of Yale University, Dr. Mandelbaum has worked in several fields of anthropolgy. He has presented the results of anthropological research, especially as they relate to problems of contemporary life, from the lecture platform, over the radio, and in government service.

HE HAS STUDIED the Apache Indians in Arizona and the Plains Cree Indians of Saskatchewan, the latter studies sponsored by the American Museum of Natural History. He has done field research in India, working on hill tribes and village communities.

In 1940-41 he was a Fellow of the Carnegie Corporation for work in psychology. Shortly after the outbreak of war, he was called to Washington as an expert consultant. Later he entered the army and served as an intelligence officer in India and Burma.

He resumed his field work in India in 1949-50 as a Guggenheim fellow. In 1953 he was in England, lecturing and writing at Cambridge University under a Fulbright award.

Dr. Mandelbaum has taught at the University of Minnesota, and since 1946 has been a member of the faculty of the University of California.

HIS PUBLICATIONS deal with the ethnology of American Indian peoples, with the folk and political problems of India, with military social organizations, and with problems of contemporary life as viewed by the anthropologist.

There will be an admission charge of 50 cents.

THE MEN OF SONG, well-known male quartet, will perform at the season's first program of the Acalanes Community Concert Association at Acalanes High School auditorium Thursday night at 8 o'clock. Members of The Men of Song are John Campbell, tenor; Carl Honzak, tenor; Roger White, baritone; Edmonw Karlsrud, bass, and Charles Touchette, pianist-arranger.

Noted Male Quartet Will Sing Thursday In Season's First Community Concert

The accomplished male quartet, The Men of Song, first offering of the Acalanes Community Concert Association for the current season, will perform at Acalanes High School aduitorium on October 21 at 8 p.m. Thursday.

The Men of Song are veterans of seven years' experience on the concert stage. They have also made a series of 10 syndicated films.

EACH OF THE MEMBERS of the group is a fine musician possessing a background of the best musical education.

Last season their extensive annual concert tour was highlighted by a special invitation to the White House to sing for President and Mrs. Eisenhower.

THE QUARTET consists of John Campbell, tenor, a graduate of Julliard and Columbia; Carl Honzak, tenor, a graduate of the University of Chicago; Roger White, baritone, who holds a degree from Columbia University; Edmond Karlsrud, bass, who attended Minnesota University, and Charles Touchette, pianist-arranger, who has toured the world as an accompanist with many great artists.

This concert is open to some 1000 membership holders in this vicinity.

The Acalanes Community Concert Association celebrates its seventh anniversary this season.

Quartet to Entertain at Taxpayers' Fete

A barbershop quartet will share the spotlight with Governor Goodwin Knight at the October 26 annual dinner meeting of the Contra Costa County Taxpayers' Association at Diablo Country Club.

The dinner will be a non-partisan gathering, with Governor Goodwin J. Knight scheduled to talk on financing and taxation. Dinner chairman will be Milton E. Gross.

He has signed up through the Martinez Chapter of Barbershop Quartets the Four-Fifths of Harmony Quartet. It is composed of Roy Peterson, bass; Bud Spaulding, lead man; Blaine Harrison, baritone, and Cornie Goertz, tenor. All except Harrison are from Martinez. He is a Concord resident.

"Taxation may not be an utterly harmonious subject, but we must keep eternally vigilant," Gross said. "Our governor knows that and so do officials generally. Taxation is a big subject now and we feel fortunate we will have the state's foremost authority as our guest. We've got some good entertainment for spice with the Four-Fifths of Harmany Quartet as the feature."

Gross said that ticket reservations which are open to the public, are being made rapidly and should be presented immediately at the Martinez offices of the Taxpayers' Association, 620 Las Juntas, telephone Martinez 220.

Aid Classes

Response to announcements about first aid classes here has been so great that Frank Williams, first aid chairman for the Mt. Diablo Red Cross Chapter, says that it will be necessary to start at least two more classes.

Oldest Taxpayer To Be Honored at Taxpayers' Fete

The oldest taxpayer in Contra Costa County is being sought by the County Taxpayers' Association.

The association wants to present the individual having this distinction to Governor Goodwin J. Knight when the governor addresses the association's annual dinner meeting at Diablo Country Club the evening of October 26.

"The governor is to talk on taxation and financial relationships between the state and county," Milton E. Gross of Martinez, chairman of the association's dinner committee, said today.

"We think it apropos that the oldest taxpayer in the county be honored as a symbol of the interest every one of us have in our governmental structure, all of it dependent on the judicious use of our taxes. So, we would like to hear immediately from all who believe they are the county's eldest in taxpaying," he said.

Names of nominees can be sent to William Zion, in charge of the taxpayers' association office in Martinez.

'Special Effort' in Civilian Defense in Schools Urged

"We are asking the schools of Contra Costa County to make a special effort to sustain their Civil Defense programs, so that we will be as adequately prepared as possible in the event of emergency," Coordinator Charles Ferrell said today.

Ferrell, a member of the county superintendent of school's staff, as Civil Defense coordinator for the schools, is currently engaged in contacting all districts to review defense plans and procedures.

ONE OF HIS CHIEF recommendations to the schools is that they inform all pupils and teachers, especially those new to the districts, on the details of the Civil Defense plan for their particular school building.

It is also suggested that parents be kept informed, schools coordinate their plans with those of the local Civil Defense group, non-teaching employees be informed of their responsibilities, sufficient first aid supplies be kept on hand to care for the school population in case of disaster or accident, frequent drills acquaint all pupils with the mechanics of the defense plan and lists be made of the family physician of each student.

FERRELL ADDED that the districts whose plans call for other agencies to take over the school facilities in the event of emergency should transfer legal responsibility by written document.

The coordinator advised parents who wish more information to communicate with the principal or superintendent of the school district.

Red Cross Calls For Volunteer Typists, Drivers

Volunteer typists and drivers are needed by the Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross, it was revealed today.

There is also a need for volunteers to sew and knit for servicemen and to work with hopitalized veterans, in addition to cooking and baking.

Mrs. Leon Johnson, staff aide chairman, urges interested persons to contact her at the chapter house on Ygnacio Avenue in Walnut Creek, even if they can work only a few hours each week.

Mrs. Dan London, motor service chairman, requests that volunteer drivers call her at YEllowstone 5-5817.

Builder Officials At Confab in East

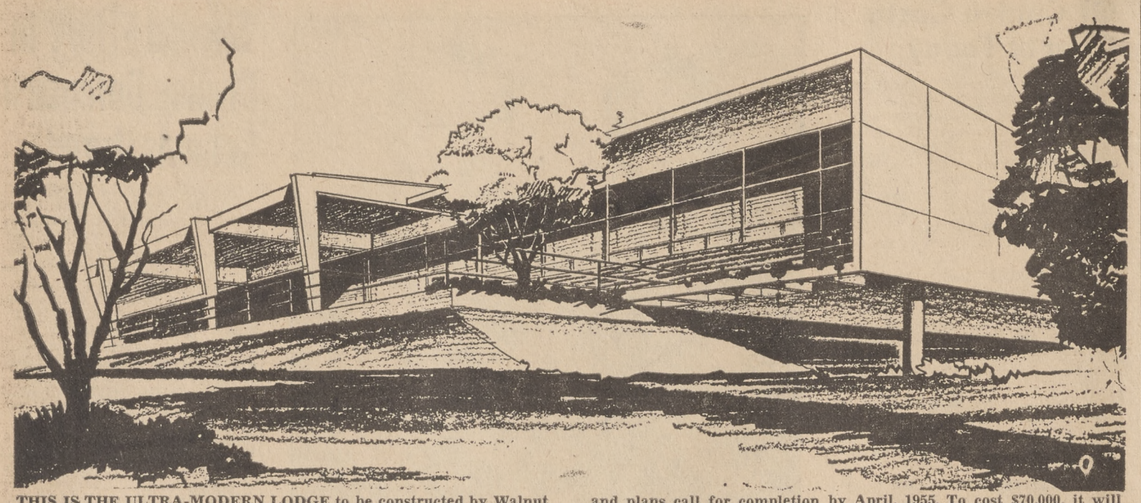

Last week at a seven-day builder conference in New York City, builders studied ways of maintaining high production levels to satisfy the continuing demands for new homes, according to Kermit L. Lincoln, president of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County, Inc.

The builder official and Frederick C. Kracke, executive vice-president of the association, journied to New York for the Northeastern Regional Housing Conference and annual fall Board of Directors' meeting of the national association of Home Builders, October 8 to 14.

Go to Church Sunday

Covenant

The Women's Fellowship of the Lafayette Covenant Church will honor members' families at a dinner Tuesday. Miss Vivian Peterson will present a travelogue of her recent trip to Scandinavian and other European countries.

Sunday Bible School is at 9:45 a.m., morning worship at 11 a.m., youth meeting at 6 p.m. and evening worship and song service at 7 p.m. Rev. G. Raymond White is the pastor.

The Wednesday choir rehearsal begins at 7:15 p.m., and the midweek meeting at 8 p.m.

Methodist

"What Shall We Make of Our Life" will be the Rev. Chester R. Lewis' sermon topic Sunday at the 8:30 and 11 a.m. worship services at the Lafayette Methodist Church.

The church's college age group will meet at 6:30 p.m. and the Methodist Youth Fellowship (high school group) will meet at 7 p.m.

Community

Officers, teachers and leaders in the educational work of Orinda Community Church are to be given special recognition at the church's morning worship service at 11 o'clock Sunday, with the Rev. Fred Morrow leading the liturgy of mutual loyalty and support.

A brief address will suggest answers to the question "What IS a Christian Education?"

Jeanne Watkins will be soloist in the choral anthem, "Hark, Hark, my Soul," by Shelley.

Youth is much in evidence at both Sunday morning hours, and especially at 9:30 when church school classes and departmental assemblies are held for children, young people and adults.

In this arrangement parents may attend a short church service and participate in group discussion while their children are occupied in their own departments.

Ray L. Welles, youth director, is in general charge of the two Fellowship groups meeting Sunday evening — junior high at 5:30 and high school at 6:45.

Lutheran

"Love God and Your Neighbor as Yourself" is the topic of the sermons to be preached by the pastor, Rev. Edward R. Andersen, at the 8 and 11 o'clock services Sunday at the Shepherd of the Valley Lutheran Church located on Moraga Highway and Orchard Road.

Two adults, Mrs. Lael McCormack, wife of Dr. J. G. McCormack, 141 Lombardy Lane, and William Brogger, 160 Whittier Road in Pleasant Hill, and a number of children will be baptized and received into membership at the 11 o'clock service.

Mrs. Delores Mjolsnes, superintendent of the Vacation Bible School last summer, will be the guest speaker for the Sunday School at 9:30 a.m.

Varied Dance Classes Open

Maudie Hammond of 29 Lost Valley Drive, a former New York dancer, currently is teaching dancing of all types at her home, as well as conducting courses to aid mothers who wish to slenderize their figures.

Tap, ballet, acrobatic, ballroom and interpretive dancing are taught by Mrs. Hammond, who has appeared in top night clubs throughout New York City and in George White's Scandals.

She studied for five years with the School of American Ballet in New York and at on time studied tap with Johnnie Sayer, who is recognized as being one of the top tap dancers in the country. She is a member of the National Association of Dancers and Affiliated Artists.

Mrs. Hammond, with her husband, Matt, and two children, Dianne, 7, and Matt Jr., 5, plans to move the family home within the next few months.

They will remain in Orinda and she will operate the dance studio from their new residence.

Mrs. Pimentel Is Honored for Service

Fifty years of loyal service to the King's Daughters by Mrs. Charles Pimentel of 39 Crest View Drive were feted recently at Northern California Branch's annual convention at the High Street Presbyterian Church in Oakland.

Thirty-one Bay Area circles were in attendance at the meeting, at which the newly organized Crown Circle of Orinda made its first appearance as a branch member.

Dr. Steiner Back From Europe Trip

Dr. Charlotte Steiner recently returned to Orinda from a three month tour of Europe during which time she visited England, France and Switzerland.

She is teaching a public health class at Acalanes High School Wednesdays at 7:30 p.m. under the Adult Education Program.

Acalanes Parents To Learn About School Affairs

The Acalanes Parents Club have a most interesting program planned for their meeting at 8 p.m. Monday in the Acalanes Auditorium. Mrs. J. E. Rinne, vice president and program chairman, has arranged a "School Activity" evening, which will familiarize parents with the school leaders and the organizations in which their children participate.

Sally Anaclerio and Carol Malovan, student coordinators of the program, plan to introduce each officer individually, and along with slides depicting his or her activity, have them give short resumes of the groups, purposes, and plans for the year.

Representing the named groups are: Anne Lee Smith, Junior Red Cross; Bob Roberts, Spanish Honor Society; Sue Panella, Aklan Staff; Carol Holabird, Blueprint; Paul Hansen, Music Department; Sally Freedman, Dance Group; Sonny Paulovic, Los Amigos; Faye Cady, Girls' Athletic Association; "Red" Jones, Rally Committee; John Conley, Boys' Feedration; Cathy Greub, Girls' League; Jean Galbraith, Fleur de Lis; Charles Schorr, Junior Statesmen; Dennis Busby, CSF; Dick McDermitt, Audio-Visual; Bob Stueben, Stage Crew.

Victor Johnson, president, will again call upon Mr. and Mrs. Frank Dees, membership chairmen, along with their committee, Messrs. and Mesdames George Deubner, Dorr Etzler, Robert Evans, Don Fibush, and Hal Swanson, to collect dues from parents not yet contacted. These dues help continue the wonderful scholarship work of the Acalanes Parents Club, which last year donated four $200 scholarships to deserving seniors, besides the gift of the art case on display now at the high school.

Mrs. Fred Seulberger, reception committee chairman, and her committee, Mesdames Ralph Ong, Newton Davis and A. Batcheldor, will again be at the door to greet all parents who come to give these enthusiastic students their full support.

Church Represented At San Leandro Meet

Mrs. Carrie Brown, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Gable and the Rev. and Mrs. Fred Morrow represented Orinda Community Church at the fall meeting of the 25 Bay Association Congregational churches at Broadmoor Community Church in San Leandro yesterday.

Chief speakers were the Rev. C. Denis Ryan and the Rev. Lyall Dixon of Australia, representatives at the recent assembly of the World Council of Churches in Evanston, Ill.

Mr. Morrow is currently the moderator of the Bay Area church group.

Community Church Potluck Wednesday

The Orinda Community Church will have its October pot luck supper from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. Wednesday. Shipments are in charge of arrangements.

The mission education committee has arranged an interesting program in the form of an old fashioned school.

Jim Campbell will be in charge of entertainment for the children.

Reservations may be made through Jeanne Watkins, CL 4-3804, or Florence Swedberg, CL 4-4148.

Edgar Bacon Wins Honor at Ft. Ord

Private Edgar A. Bacon Jr., 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar A. Bacon Sr. of 42 El Toyonal, was named honor graduate of the Army's basic administration school in Fort Ord recently.

Private Bacon entered the Army last May and received his basic training with Company F, 63rd Infantry Regiment. He holds a Master of Arts degree from the University of California.

Stuart Mitchell's Mother Visits Here

Visiting Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Mitchell of 172 Lombardy Lane is Mr. Mitchell's mother, Mrs. Mamie Mitchell of Chattanooga, Tenn. She flew here from Chattanooga September 19.

Since her arrival she has gone to various places in the Bay Area with her son and daughter-in-law.

Her grandson, Stuart Mitchell Jr., who is the Stuart Mitchell's only child, has entered Stanford University, where he expects to major in business administration. He graduated from Acalanes High School last June.

Local Girl Chairman Of Marquette Group

Carol Rueckel of 6 Los Altos, a senior in journalism at Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis., will serve as co-chairman of publicity for Marquette's 1954 homecoming celebration October 23.

As a committee chairman, she will also be one of seven homecoming sweethearts. Miss Rueckel, the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. W. C. Rueckel, is a member of Chi Sigma Chi Sorority, Theta Sigma Phi, journalism sorority; Kappa Tau Alpha, journalism honor society, and Gamma Pi Epsilon, national Jesuit honor society for women.

Quiz Scheduled For Church Night

Fellowship Hall of Orinda Community Church will become "the little white schoolhouse" Wednesday evening when members of the congregation's committee on world service education will conduct a half-hour quiz program in connection with its monthly Church night.

A potluck dinner is scheduled to start at 6:30, with Trustee Chairman A. W. Reid presiding.

A budget for 1955, prepared by the trustees and stewardship committee, is to be considered by the members and supporters present.

James Campbell will offer encouragement to full family attendance by furnishing separate entertainment for children during the adult program. Adjournment is scheduled for 8:30.

Members of the Shipmates, young couples' club, have taken responsibility for dinner arrangements.

Family reservations and food assignments can be obtained by phoning Mrs. Walter Swedberg, CLifford 4-4148, or Mrs. Douglas Watkins, CLifford 4-3804.

Orioles Hold Dinner Dance

El Nido Rancho was the setting on October 2 for a dinner dance held by the Orinda Orioles, their husbands and friends.

It was a "strictly for fun" party, planned with the idea that new members in the group might become better acquainted.

Alexandria Gordon Pledges Sorority

Alexandria Gordon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William N. Gordon of 29 Longridge Road, has been pledged to Lambda Chapter of Sigma Kappa Sorority at the University of California.

Miss Gordon graduated from Acalanes High School, where she was a member of the Spanish Honorary Society and Acalhonors. She entered Cal as a freshman in the fall semester of 1954.

Japanese Couple Demonstrate Native Foods

Wearing the traditional kimono of Tokyo, with her black hair pulled back in a horse-tail and tied with a white ribbon, Reiko Wagatsuma and her new husband, Hiroshi Wagatsuma, both of whom arrived here a few weeks ago from Japan, gave the dinner guests of the Timothy Colvins of 121 Van Ripper Lane a demonstration of true Oriental entertaining, and how it is done in Japan.

Guests gathered in the dining room of the Colvins' home to watch the newlyweds cook sukiyaki over hot coals on a portable hibachi. Each guest according to custom was invited to taste the sauce and to express his desire for more salt, a touch of sugar or perhaps more soya sauce.

Following the serving of the Japanese dishes, the bridegroom who is the son of the dean of the College of Law in Tokyo and who is to attend Harvard where he has a scholarship, sang a group of songs in his native tongue. Then seated under the Hawaiian torches in the garden, he played the flute.

His wife shyly displayed her trousseau, which included a number of magnificent and colorful kimonos that had been designed by her mother, who is a member of the Japanese aristocracy.

Among the guests of the Colvins were Mr. and Mrs. James A. Felchlin and her mother, Mrs. John Sinclair, who has just returned from an extensive tour of Europe and Africa.

A second party given by Mr. and Mrs. Colvin to greet their distinguished visitors included as guests Mr. and Mrs. William Besler and Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Trefetben of Piedmont and Mr. and Mrs. Ben Holabird of Orinda.

Take The Hunger Out Of Your Diet

Now at last, you don't have to feel hungry while dieting. If your present reducing plan leaves you "half starved" between meals, lacking the vitality you want and need, with feelings of mental and physical exhaustion ... there's a new, easy-to-follow, low-calorie diet just for you!

Recommended by leading nutritionists, it ends the unpleasantness so often associated with dieting—and the discouraging tendency to regain lost weight. It even lets you enjoy many of the foods you like best. This new diet features a glass of whole milk at each meal ... and provides the staying qualities that low-calorie reducing plans of the past have lacked.

The old approach was to lower the fat intake to a minimum and keep the carbohydrate level moderate. The new diet, however, is high in protein, moderate in fat and low in carbohydrates, reflecting latest nutritional thinking.

There is just no need for you to suffer through an unworkable reducing program. Mario Guarneri Tops Palsy Fund With His Trumpet

Often we hear about Mario Guarneri, Orinda 12-year-old, and his superb trumpet playing. But many don't know that Mario recently won first prize, a lovely silver trophy, for his appearance on the Cerebral Palsy Telethon.

Votes in the form of money sent to the Cerebral Palsy Fund in his name were counted, and Mario was found to have "collected" over $600.

It was not only for a worthy cause, but a great thrill for "Butch."

Another thrill for him was spending five weeks at the College of Pacific music camp this summer. There he met his hero, Raphael Mendez, who is considered by some to be the greatest trumpet player in the world, and he also had the opportunity to play in weekly camp concerts, which were conducted by various outstanding conductors.

Mrs. Charles Biesel Visiting in Toronto

Mrs. Charles Biesel of 56 Crest View Drive is in Toronto, visiting her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Keith Whiting.

Mrs. Biesel expects to be back in Orinda in about a week. She left for Toronto September 30 and planned to visit Montreal with the Whitings.

Art Smith Honored At Union Oil Refinery

Forty continuous years of Union Oil Company service were honored recently at Oleum Refinery when Art Smith, asphalt foreman, was presented with a service award and entertained at a luncheon in the refinery cafeteria.

Smith lives with his wife, Helen, at 11 El Caminto and is active in garden club and hothouse flower activities.

Smith started his Union Oil Company service at Santa Paula Refinery in 1914.

In 1917 he was transferred to the Oleum Refinery, becoming refinery foreman in 1925. He rose to his present assignment in 1939 and has supervised the blending, filling and shipping of asphalt products to the present day.

SECOND SECTION

ORINDA SUN

Friday, October 15, 1954

TOAST TO HAPPINESS is offered by Lieut. Lee Bates and his bride, the former Marjory Blankenship, following their wedding October 1 at Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church. Bride and groom are both from Lafayette.

Helen Jarvis Will be Wed

Planning to be married November 26 at Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church are Helen Lucille Jarvis and J. Dennis Stevens of Walnut Creek.

The romantic news was recently revealed to members of the family at a dinner at the home of Helen's mother, Mrs. Lucille Jarvis of 1061 West Holly Drive. Helen is also the daughter of the late Alex C. Jarvis.

She was graduated from Acalanes High School in June, 1953; then attended Whitworth College in Washington for a year.

Bridesmaids at the ceremony will be Ilene Jarvis, Helen's sister, Mrs. Ray Smith of Albany, Miss Lael McCrea of Seattle, Wash., and Miss Ina Mae Cockerton of Walnut Creek.

Candle lighters will be Helen's sisters-in-law, Mrs. Leo Jarvis of Walnut Creek and Mrs. Andrew Jarvis of San Anselmo.

Dennis is the son of Mrs. James Barkley of 1414 Oakland Boulefard and John Stevens of Seattle, Wash. He graduated from Acalanes with Helen and is now a seaman-first-class in the United States Navy.

Best man will be Phil Laing of Walnut Creek and ushers will include his brother, Ken Stevens, and Herman Waldon of Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Tompkins Is Married to Leonard Wald

Mrs. Versa Tompkins became Mrs. Leonard A. Wald Saturday in a ceremony in the home of Wald's son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard O. Wald of 2416 Casa Way.

Attending the couple at the ceremony were Mrs. Leo O'Connell of San Francisco, Versa's sister, and Douglas Wald, son of the benedict. The Rev. James Upshaw of Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church officiated.

A reception followed the ceremony and the couple left on a wedding trip, planning to return to 1020 Pleasant Valley Drive, Pleasant Hill.

Wald, manager of the Walnut Creek office of Western Union, has lived here for the past 16 years. Mrs. Tompkins moved to Pleasant Hill from Berkeley two years ago.

Towhee Unit Plans Tea for November 30

Plans are now being made by Towhee Unit of Mt. Diablo Therapy Center for its annual exhibit tea November 30 at Diablo Country Club.

Tea and Christmas pudding will be served to all guests viewing the exhibits and shopping in the bazaar from 1:30 to 4 p.m.

Christmas table settings and decorated trees will be on display by several organizations.

Tickets may be purchased from Towhee members or reserved by calling Mrs. B. B. Wilder. Proceeds will benefit Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

Mrs. John Athanson, general chairman, is aided by Mrs. Ferris Fain, food chairman; Mrs. Samuel Bradbard, exhibit chairman; Mrs. William McGuire, awards chairman; Mrs. Alan Scott and Mrs. Howard Bell, bazaar co-chairmen, and Mrs. Donald Priewe, decorations.

Miss Kammerer Is Married In Del Monte

In a gown of Chantilly lace over ivory satin, Camille Kammerer of Walnut Creek became the bride of Richard Baxter of Monterey in a ceremony in St. John's Chapel of Del Monte recently.

The daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ward B. Kammerer, Camille was given in marriage by her brother, Dr. Burleigh Kammerer of Piedmont.

THE CHAPEL WAS festive, decorated in bouquets of white gladioli, snapdragons and stocks. Camille's dress was styled with a portrait neckline and long sleeves.

The skirt extended into a train and a long lace trimmed veil was attached to a net cap studded with seed pearls. She carried white orchids surrounded with bouvardia and stephanotis.

Attending her were Chi Omega Sorority sisters from San Jose State College. Joyce Reynolds was maid of honor and bridesmaids were Joy Mitchell, Sue Chapman and Renee Brouillard.

They wore waltz length gowns of doted Swiss over taffeta. They also wore matching picture hats and carried bouquets of carnations.

SANDRA BECKLEY and Susan Giffen, nieces of the bride, were flower girls and wore dresses of white dotted Swiss over pink taffeta. They carried bouquets of rosebuds and bouvardia.

Best man for Richard was John O'Shea while his three brothers, James Carl and Herbert Baxter, were ushers.

A reception followed in the United States Navel Post Graduate School and the newlyweds have selected Pacific Grove for their home.

Blankenship-Bates Nuptials Held In Walnut Creek

October 1 in Walnut Creek were Marjorie Blankenship, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Merle S. Blankenship of Brook Street, Lafayette, and Lt. Lee G. Bates, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Bates of Lafayette.

The wedding took place in the Fireside Chapel of the Presbyterian Church. Following the ceremony, the couple left for a honeymoon in Canada, after which they took up residence at Fort Lewis, Wash. Lt. Bates is now awaiting orders for overseas assignment.

Mrs. R. H. Fairclough Jr. of Concord, the bride's sister, was the attendant, and Ed Keefe of Walnut Creek was the best man.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Bates are graduates of Acalanes High School. Marjorie attended junior college in Oakland and for the past few years has been a dental technician in the office of Dr. Clifford M. Johnson in Lafayette. Ralph attended the University of California at Davis for two years.

A reception was held after the wedding at the Forrest Cummings home in Sunset Village, Lafayette.

Orioles Will Hold Bridge Party Oct. 27

The Orioles will hold a bridge party at noon Wednesday, October 27, at the home of Mrs. Ray Devin on Moraga Road, Moraga.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. M. W. Hardy and Mrs. Stuart Mitchell. Reservations may be made through Mrs. K. Stringer, CL 4-2291.

Flowering Century Plant Object of Much Admiration

Now a dull grayish-brown, the 45-foot-high century plant near the fire hydrant at the home of the John H. Christies at 18 Charles Hill Road, Orinda, attracts the admiration and wonder of passers-by.

Standing on a bank at the intersection of Charles Hill Road and Charles Hill Circle, the plant recently bloomed for the first time in its 25-year life. Christie transplanted it to its present location 14 years ago.

One of the peculiarities of century plants is that they bloom only once, after many years, and then die. However, they usually provide new shoots.

WHEN THE CENTURY plant at the Christie home was in full bloom recently, it had some 3000 golden yellow flowers. Now it is fading — but even in its "swan song" it is lovely.

This plant was originally in one of the Southern Pacific parks in Oakland. When the park was abandoned, to be converted into a parking lot, Christie obtained the plant.

"The flower is about 6 inches in diameter," Christie says. "There are 31 shoots extending from the stem. Each shoot has about 15 'fingers.' In all, there are some 3000 blooms on this one plant.

"WE KNOW OF a flowering century plant at the Hotel Claremont and of three in Redwood City — but this one is the biggest.

"The blooms started at the bottom, and kept going up. They must have been full of sugar, because there were swarms of bees all the time.

"Now this plant will die. But it is still beautiful and it causes considerable comment in the neighborhood."

Mills College Club At Dinner Dance

A buffet supper - country dance for members and their husbands of the Mt. Diablo Mills College Club was held Saturday evening at the Women's Club in Walnut Creek.

Bev and Virginia Wilder, who are starting a folk dance class this month for young couples at the Walnut Creek Recreation Center, led the group in country style dances. Most couples were unfamiliar with folk dancing, but everyone participated and had lots of fun.

Gourds, squashes, and peppers attractively arranged on table cloths of aqua-marine carried out the autumn theme. Dinner partners were found by matching up cards.

Guests included Mr. and Mrs. Frederick J. Moss, Franklin C. Raney, Robert E. Lord, Edward Conner, Manuel J. Quintel, Frank A. Marshall, Theodore Marston, Norman T. Riffe, Emmett Miller, Robert K. Charlesworth of Walnut Creek.

Miss Clarice Boies of Concord, Mr. and Mrs. James A. Burris, George Monheit, John P. Garretson of Lafayette, and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Langdale of Orinda.

Will Honor AFS Official At Reception

Families sponsoring the American Field Service International Scholarship program in this area and their guests will honor Stephen Galatti, director general of the A.F.S., and Miss Helga Steinmetz, European field service representative at a reception on Sunday, October 24, at 4 p.m. at 88 El Toyonal Road, Orinda.

Galatti, as a young Harvard graduate, went overseas to drive an ambulance in World War I and became director general of the A.F.S. during World War II, supervising the activities of 2,000 volunteer ambulance drivers.

The high school exchange program launched locally for the first time this fall, got its start in 1947 when Galatti brought 50 European youngsters to the United States. He had found private schols that would accept them tuition free and families who would take them in. The cost per visitor averaged $650. Galatti asked for contributions from the men who had driven ambulances. The idea had such appeal that Parent-Teacher Associations, service clubs, and high school student bodies soon asked to sponsor scholars.

Today, over 400 foreign students are in this country on A.F.S. scholarships, 80 per cent of whom are in public high schools. All of the countries in Europe outside of the Iron Curtain are represented and this year the group also includes youths from New Zealand and Japan. Thirty-three of the 400 are in California homes.

Also honored at the reception will be the four A.F.S. scholarship holders in this area, Charlotte Hradetzky of Vienna, Austria; Paavo Vakeva of Malmi, Finland; Lilian Meyer of Esch-sur-Alzette, Luxemburg, and Maja Andersen of Auckland, New Zealand, together with their "American families."

Members of the consulates of the four countries will be present, as will George Eberhard, president of the Orinda Rotary Club which sponsored one of the students, according to Mrs. Theodore Sanford, A.F.S. representative in this area.

Alamo Women Plan Card Party Next Tuesday

Tuesday, the Alamo Women's Club will hold its regular monthly card party, starting at 10:30 a .m. at the clubhouse.

Members are asked to bring friends and sandwiches. Dessert and coffee will be served. All kinds of card games are played.

The committee in charge of arrangements includes Pauline Kremser, Elsie Fores, Margaret Edmunds and Phyllis Spahr.

October 8, the executive board met at the clubhouse at noon, preceding a membership session at 1 p. m., followed by a tea.

The tea was arranged by Elsie Fores, chairman; Mrs. A. E. Hensler, Mrs. Alma Hobson and Mrs. A. Williams.

October 7 the garden section met at the clubhouse with Josephine Le Baron as chairman.

Mills Groups Plan Yule Card Sales Parties

Fall house cleaning and the giving of Christmas card sales parties are synonomous for members of the Mt. Diablo and Orinda Mills College Clubs.

This year, as last, individual members are inviting friends and neighbors to their homes to view the large selection of cards and Christmas wrappings being purchased through the Mills College Shop. Proceeds of the sales will go to the Alumnae Association as an unrestricted gift to the college.

Among those in Walnut Creek showing the cards are Mesdames L. Brenan Blackledge, Edward H. Conner, William Cottle, James Deasy, J. Blaker Herod, De Witt W. Krueger, Theodore Marston, Frederick J. Moss Jr., J. L. Scherer Jr., and Fred C. Tornow.

Those entertaining in Concord and Pleasant Hill include Mesdames Edward A. Hurlbut, Robert E. Lord, Franklin C. Rancy, Hugh K. McJunkin Sr., and Richard Wright.

In Lafayette the cards will be shown by Mesdames James A. Burris, George Monheit, William C. Spencer, David R. Inge, Herbert Ware Von Colditz and Stewart Wade.

Members of the Orinda Mills College Club displaying the cards this week and next include Mesdames Richard Copenhagen, Philip A. Lathrop, Robert Langdale, Benjamin B. Randall, Warren L. Dexter, Luther H. Gulick, Russel M. Gilwee, and Robert Bigler.

Suzanne Fowler Tells Betrothal

An Acalanes High School graduate, Miss Suzanne Dee Fowler, recently announced her betrothal to Robert Deville Collins of Piedmont to Phi Mu Sorority sisters at the University of California.

The daughter of Captain Joseph William Fowler, USN, and Mrs. Fowler, Suzanne is a sophomore at the university. Her parents are former Walnut Creek residents who now live in Stockton where Capt. Fowler is stationed.

Robert is the son of Dr. Jean McIntyre Collins of Piedmont and the late Dr. Russell Collins. A graduate of Piedmont High School and the University of California, he is now working toward a master's degree at John Hopkins University in Washington, D. C.

At Berkeley he was a member of Kappa Delta Rho and Phi Phi. Wedding plans are indefinite at present.

Former Orindans Live in Bangkok

Capt. and Mrs. Willis Pickton, former Orinda residents, are now living in Bangkok, Siam, where they continue to receive The SUN

Mrs. Pickton writes: "Do hope we won't miss any copies of The SUN! The last mail brought the news that our subscription had run out. As a rule, we get it about a month late, but occasionally one really takes the long way round and we get the news about three months behind schedule. However, we always enjoy it and look forward to it eagerly."

Tells Possibility Of TV, Radio for Adoption Publicity

At the recent meeting of the Contra Costa County Citizens' Advisory Committee on Adoptions, Mrs. Foster Davis, president of the Lafayette Adoption Auxiliary, reported on the possibilities of using television and radio time in addition to the press for informing the public about agency adoptions, and for focusing attetion on the need for adoption homes for children of minority groups and older children.

The Adoption Unit of the County Social Service Department reviewed a recent study which showed that infants are placed by the agency at a few weeks of age when circumstances related to the child are favorable. Miss Hazel Bearss, child welfare division supervisor, emphasized that one essential for agency adoptive placement is that the natural parent must have made a firm decision, relinquishing her rights and responsibilities, previous to placement.

Members of the Advisory Committee present were: Steven Welch Jr., president, of Martinez; Mrs. Foster Davis, of Concord; Mrs. Howard Pettit, of Richmond; Dr. Arlane Parker, Walnut Creek; Mrs. Emily Axtell, Richmond; Mrs. S. R. H. Banks, Richmond; Donald Fibush, Lafayette; William Betts, Concord; Robert C. Keyston, Lafayette; Ernest Lasell Sr., Martinez; and W. G. Golden, Miss Bearss and Muriel Nelson of the Social Service Department.

Guests were Mrs. George D. Carroll of Richmond and Mrs. Robert Jones III of Lafayette.

WC Juniors to Hold Social for New Members

The Walnut Creek Junior Woman's Club will hold its second social of the year for prospective new members on Tuesday at the Woman's Clubhouse in Walnut Creek, with Mrs. Floyd Burror presiding.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Mrs. Rasmussen from the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center, who will talk about the history of the center, and its benefit to the community, according to Mrs. Robert Wise, program chairman.

Refreshments will be served by Mrs. Jean Ader, Mrs. June Bond and Mrs. Jean Burger.

Local Girls Named Class Officers at COP

Miss Phyllis Pyle of 123 Moraga Road, Orinda, and Miss Joyce Blatnic of 1014 Margery, Pleasant Hill, have been elected to class offices at the College of the Pacific in Stockton.

Phyllis has been elected secretary of the junior class of 250 students scheduled for graduation in June of 1956, and Joyce will act as treasurer for her class of more than 200 students.

Job's Daughters Carnival to Be Held November 6

Job's Daughter, Bethel 218, will hold a "terrific" Carnival November 6 at the Veterans Memorial Building in Lafayette from 5 to 10 p.m., Ann Sonntag, general chairman of the event, announces.

Further information is best conveyed by Ann, who says:

"Do you have to entertain your little sister or pesty brother that Saturday? Bring them to the Carnival!

"DO YOU HAVE a date for that Saturday night and not know where to go? Come to the Carnival!

"Of course, you moms and pops are welcome, too — maybe you'll have more fun at the games than the kids, who knows?

"There'll be hot dogs, roast beef sandwiches, beans, cake, ice cream, pop, popcorn and lots more for 'eats.' Prices will be reasonable.

'THERE'S NO admission charge, so you can spend your money on the games and food.

"There will be entertainment several times during the evening, and the whole thing will wind up with dancing after about 9 p.m.

"Games? I'll have to tell you about those later. Meanwhile, if you need a hint, ask any member of Job's Daughters."

Jewish Women to Hear Reading

An entertaining program and tea will follow the regular membership meeting of the League of Jewish Women at 1 p.m. Wednesday at the Contra Costa Jewish Community Center building in Lafayette.

Mrs. Sam Wiseman, membership chairman, invites all members, friends or anyone interested in the organization to be present.

"Summer Had Better Be Good," a short humorous sketch written by Ruth McKinney, will be read by Mrs. Herman Silverman, a local newspaperwoman.

All members of the executive board will be on hand as hostesses. Tea will be poured by past presidents, Mrs. Lewis Rapport, Orinda, and Mrs. Elliot Karlins, of Walnut Creek.

Refreshments and table decorations are by Mrs. Sid Kroff, social chairman, and Mrs. Sam Bauer, hospitality chairman.

Marietta Rogers Betrothal Told

Miss Marietta Ann Rogers of Walnut Creek is engaged to Edwin William Hunt of Lafayette, it was announced recently by the parents of the bride-elect, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rogers of 1761 Main Street.

Marietta, a graduate of Acalanes High School, is a student at East Contra Costa Junior College.

He future husband is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Edwin M. Hunt. Also an Acalanes graduate, he is now undergoing basic training with the United States Army at Fort Ord.

Pandora Chapter Schedules Series of Book Reviews

Pandora Chapter of the Children's Home Society is busily planning its yearly series of book review teas to be given at the Orinda Community Church.

Mrs. Lloyd Truman will review an interesting or significant book at each of the three events to be given at 1 p.m. on October 22, November 19, and December 17.

THE FIRST BOOK REVIEW tea in October is under the chairmanship of Mrs. William Houston, assisted by Mesdames Edward Walsh, Ronald Kersh, Roy Beckett, Paul Booth, John Barchfield, Frederick Mulvaney, John Pedersen, Kenneth St. Clair and Henry Wynne.

Second book review tea in November is being planned by Mrs. Lester Gease. Members are now engaged in making table place mats, doll clothes, including hand knits, and a booth containing ivy, pelargoniums, African violets and assorted house plants under the direction of Mrs. Ridgley Greathouse.

The December 17 event is under the direction of Mrs. Frederick Mulvany.

The donation to the Children's Home Society is $5 for the series of teas.

MRS. KENNETH ST. CLAIR is in charge of ticket sales and friends and neighbors interested in obtaining tickets may phone CLifford 4-2185 in Orinda.

A nice feature in the ticket sale is that tickets will be punched at the door each date. If one is unable to attend one review, she is entitled to take a guest to one of the following teas.

Shower Held For Bride-To-Be

A miscellaneous wedding shower was recently held for Verna Steward by Mrs. Lillian Armanino of Moraga Boulevard, Lafayette.

Both Miss Steward and her fiance, Marvin Lucas, are of Lafayette. The marriage is scheduled for November, but no definite date has been set.

Attending the shower were: Mrs. O. Fredericks; Mrs. Grace Ann Irwin, sister of the bride-to-be; Mrs. Elvina Perody; Mrs. Phyllis Carvalho; Mrs. Raymond Crowe; Mrs. Lilliam Armanino; Mrs. Wilma Armanino; Mrs. Ethel Rundell; Mrs. Ida Jasmine; Mrs. Bertha Stewart; Mrs. Rosalee Lucas, mother of the groom; and Mrs. Diana Coleman.

Rainbow Installs Advisor, Officers

Marlene Shahbazian, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. J. V. Shahbazian of 1589 Livorna Road, Walnut Creek, was installed Worthy Advisor of Walnut Creek Assembly No. 84, Order of Rainbow for Girls, before 200 members and guests last week at Masonic Temple.

Retiring Worthy Advisor Patricia Glendinning was installing officer and Barbara A. Lynch, past worthy advisor was mistress of ceremonies.

Chapter Roused For Impromptu Coffee Klatch

Members of Kappa Tau Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi were roused Tuesday morning by the ways and means committee for a come-as-you-are coffee klatch in the Walnut Creek home of Mrs. Norman Fratzke.

Plans for the sorority's Christmas project were discussed at the impromptu gathering which began at 8 a. m.

Today, several members will attend a Concord Area Council installation of officers to be held at the First Christian Church of Concord.

At a regular meeting last week in the Walnut Creek home of Mrs. John Hutch, a talk entitled "Happiness" was presentetd by Dr. J. E. Neighbor, psychiatrist.

Following a question and answer forum by Dr. Neighbor, Mrs. Herbert N. Minster of 421 Cross Way, Concord, announced a rummage sale will be held December 4 in the Pacific Gas and Electric Company Community Room in Walnut Creek and asked that donations be delivered to her home.

In other action, Mrs. Gene Pleu was elected council representative with Earl Melone as alternate. Mrs. Frank Jolly was co-hostess.

PATTER ON THE PARTY LINE

By PATRICIA JELTON

THERE IS SOMETHING ABOUT MEETING A PRINCESS, well theres' just something about it that there's nothing else like. And the lovely Princess Aditya of Thailand, whom we met at Eleanor and Harvey Lyon's Sunday afternoon, was visibly a true fairy princess, with her ethereal natural loveliness and exquisite garb, but with two tiny feet solidly planted in realism.

The princess is touring our country as a guest of the State Department, evidence exhibited by prescence of Air Force band and TV.

She very articulately delineates her country's working for, interest in and future hope for more widespread participation in UNICEF (United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund). But from her sparkling, witty, informal chronicle of fund raising activity in her native country, impossible to realize little lady is from the opposite side of the world.

We had been basking in smug realization that our country has been No. 1 in contributions to this fund, but said smugness dissolved when we learned that her country is No. 2.

For those such as your correspondent who are a little dubious as to exact location of her homeland, she explained that it is also known as Siam, and obliquely hinted that our knowledge of same might be as regards felines and anatomically attached siblings.

Anyhow, she assured us of preference for being called Thailanders, as word Thai means free. As she launched into description of their fund raising activities, certainly could have all happened right in the Orinda-Lafayette-Walnut Creek. area.

And when she told of the quantities of rice her country had sent to stave off starvation of European children, you were filled with a warm glow of hope for a not too distant worldwide compatibility.

Princess is taken to football game

Although the princess is indeed dedicated to the purpose of her visit to this country, she is also enjoying her traveling, from a tourist-eye view. For instance, last Saturday, while Mrs. Lyon, Mrs. Carter Collins and Mrs. Charles Camp were hustling her from a Children's Hospital board meeting to luncheon to tea, our determined little princess stopped the show with demand to be taken to a football game.

Well, there happened to be a little fiasco going on at the Berkeley stadium which they attended with Mrs. Camp as commentator, resulting in princess' report of excitement albeit confusion.

"Who was playing, Jessie?" we inquired.

"Oh, honey, I never know," replied the blithe sports non-enthusiast.

Mrs. Camp has had a most fabulous summer touring Europe with daughter Nancy, and if you know the junior and senior Camps (fem.), you know they had some very unusual, unexpected and exciting experiences.

Well, upon their return home, breathless to relate these experiences, were further deflated to discover that Pa Camp, that's Dr. Charles of the Paleontology Department at Cal, had beat them to the rostrum and Page 1 with the discovery of the world's biggest pile of bones in the Shoshone Mountains in central Nevada.

To be specific, the story goes something like so:

You probably won't remember, but 160 million years ago, Nevada had a seacoast. And in this ancient sea swam sea-going reptiles (ichthyosaurs). And these were not just any little old ichthyosaurs, they were were great big ichthyosaurs, up to 100 feet in length.

There they still are, 7000 feet up

Eventually they all died and were buried in mud and ooze, which has become solidified into shale and limestone. Then the sea disappeared, the floor became uplifted 7000 feet, and here still repose the creatures, turned to stone in a giant quarry.

They looked like enormous porpoises with fins and paddles. The paddles, used as oars, are the modified legs and feet of their earlier land ancestors. As to pulchritude, their eyes were the size of dinner-plates. They were among the experiments of nature.

Now how did Dr. Camp know where to look for the things? Well, he knew they were there all the time, but he didn't know what that they were so big or that there were so many. So he and son Roddy camped out on the site this summer and soon were joined by some elegant-type day laborers such as Colonel Carter Collins and Ruth and Scott Newhall.

At the present time, 11 of the 50-foot monsters have been exposed.

Now what to do with them? Inasmuch as they are imbedded in preservative lime, the smart thing to do with them is to leave them there. So the wheels are turning to have the vast quarry taken over at a state or national park.

This accomplished, the area would be properly fenced in, caretakers appointed and facilities installed, which would be the forerunner of better roads and accommodations. Applications are no doubt being taken for hot dog stands and slot machine concessions.

Those bones are NOT for planting ivy!

In the meantime, Dr. Camp does not dare to leave his precious bones, for fear that souvenir hunters will tote them off to plant ivy in. So he has taken a sabbatical from the university and will remain until succored.

The interest already created in this remote site has been tremendous. Over 1000 people have braved their way over the 110-odd miles through the sabebrush from Fallon.

At most prehistoric monuments, the best you can say is, "They've been here, but they went that-a-way."

But Dr. Charles Camp — he's got 'em.

We spent a most exhilarating evening Monday listening to Vice-President Richard Nixon. Among his admonitions was one to attend the Baldwin Bandwagon Rally Wednesday evening at Acalanes auditorium.

George Murphy, who is a living doll, is coming up from Hollywood to help us put on an all-star, fast-action revue, a good hour of topnotch variety entertainment, to be followed by an address by John Baldwin, for which he promises some new and inspiring ideas.

We'll be looking for you. Everybody'll be there.

GEE WHIZ! These look good, decide Mark Priewe and Sharon Wisecarver (center) as they look over some of the things to be sold at Towhee Unit's annual Christmas Exhibit Tea to be held November 30 at Diablo Country Club. Around Acalanes

By DIANE HILLYARD

WE HAVE COMPLETED another educational week of school. Along with the learning of the three "R's", we acquired a few more interesting facts.

In the council meeting of October 6, Bob Roberts suggested that we have music played over the public address system at noon. This should be slightly terrific. Imagine eating a tuna sandwich to "Goodnight Sweetheart".

Our student body card sales are over and we find that 90 per cent of the student population have bought student body cards. The rest must be outcasts. Well, we all gotta go sometime.

A new addition has been added to our football games. Nope, it isn't an extra player. The National Guard will send four men to be a color guard while the Star Spangled Banner is played. This was tried out at the Diablo game and looked very effective.

THE MORE TALENTED members of the great senior class were busy these last two weeks rehearsing for the senior talent show October 13. The theme was centered around a theatrical booking agency, with the actors performing in front of the manager. It was easy to see that plenty of hard work went into this production.

As we promsied, here is a list of the sophomore class officers who will be working hard this year: Bill Freeman, president; Dick Neuman, vice president; Pat Stevens, secretary; Marilyn Englehard, treasurer; and Gary Arel, citizenship representative.

Return From Long Motor Trip in West

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hafner of 49 Loma Vista returned last week from a leisurely motor trip through Carson Pass to Las Vegas, and then on to Zion and Bryce Canyon.

The Hafners said the weather was perfect and the fall coloring in the woods marvelous, and that snow on many of the mountain peaks added to the beauty of the scene and to the tanginess of the air.

On the return trip, they stopped at Santa Barbara to visit Mr. Hafner's sister and to enjoy some surf bathing. In San Jose they visited their daughter, Mary Frances Emerie, her husband, and their two grandchildren. Just a few days of their vacation remained for pleasant garden work at home.

Pledge Sorority, Fraternities at U. of Oregon

John Spiegl, Phillip Lewthian and Judy Dunn, all of Orinda, were among the largest class of men and women in several years to pledge social sororities and fraternities at the University of Oregon.

A total of 356 men were pledged by the fraternities and 271 women were tapped by sororities.

Spiegl was pledged to Sigma Alpha Mu, Lewthian to Sigma Nu, and Miss Dunn to Delta Gamma.

Christian Science

How spiritual undertsanding of man's scientific unity with God overcomes fear and establishes harmony will be brought out at services Sunday at Churches of Christ, Scientist, 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and 42 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

The Lesson-Sermon entitled "Doctrine of Atonement" includes the following passages from the Bible (Psalms 51:15-17):

"O Lord, open thou my lips; and my mouth shall shew forth thy praise. For thou desirest not sacrifice; else would I give it; thou delightest not in burnt offering. The sacrifices of God are a broken spirit a broken and contrite heart, O God, thou wilt not despise."

From "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy the following selections will also be read (202:3): "The scientific unity which exists between God and man must be wrought out in life-practice, and God's will must be universally done."

The Golden Text is from I John (2.1): "If any man sin, we have an advocate with the Father, Jesus Christ the righteous."

NDGW Unit Plans Fall, Winter Fetes

At their meeting recently, members of Las Amigas Parlor, Walnut Creek, Native Daughters of the Golden West, discussed at length the planning of the first of their Fall-Winter social programs.

Foremost of these were the plans for the bazaar and luncheon to be held Wednesday at the Women's Club. The Parlor Sewing Circle, headed by Mrs. Florence Wald, have been working all year so that they will be able to offer many handworked pieces as Christmas gifts. A homecooked luncheon will also be served to the public in conjunction with the bazaar.

OCTOBER 27 the parlor will turn out in force to fete the members of the Green Patrol Drill Team, who on Admission Day in Monterey last month, won for the 5th consecutive year the Native Daughter State Championsrip title.

The Green Patrol is composed of members of the Walnut Creek Parlor and Argonaut Parlor of Oakland. Members of Las Amigas Parlor who belong to the prize winning drill team are: Lt. Shirlee Nelson, Sergeant Mariellen Kovach, Corporals Ruthe Tooker and Beverly Desdier, Pfc. Earline Cox, and Veronica Garland, Betty McIntyre, Alice Serpa and Sharon Hirni.

The team for the past year has been lead by Lt. Shirlee Nelson and instructed by Marge and Burke Woodward, also of Walnut Creek. The Color Guard and members of Argonaut Parlor who comprise the remainder of the team will also be honored at this meeting.

IONE KNABENSHUH, Phyllis Iverson, Bobbie Looman and Lorraine Moeller have been appointed to take charge of the above social event.

At the conclusion of the recent business meeting, Mrs. Gibson of Lafayette gave a very interesting talk and demonstration on the art of making ornamental candles. Refreshments were served by Social Chairman Myrtle Vinding and Dorothy Beckemeyer.

Mrs. Helen Ford, president of Las Amigas Parlor, has announced that in the future, plans are being made to offer some form of entertainment —either movies, a guest speaker, or a demonstration of handicraft such as the candle making given by Mrs. Gibson — as a special attraction for the enjoyment of the members at the social meeting of the parlor, which is held on the fourth Wednesday of each month.

Hold Luncheon for Grand Esther

Mrs. W. J. Daniels, 17 Richard Court, recently entertained Mrs. Maude Stephens, Grand Esther of the 1939 Association of Esthers, O.E.S., at a special luncheon at the Willows.

Officers of the association present were Mrs. Lucille Cherry, president, and Mrs. Elsa Prosser, secretary. Guests included Mesdames Alice McLaughlin, Jessie Hopkins, Lillian Rowland, Esther Pedersen, Katie Hardesty, and Virginia Prosser.

Plan Luncheon

Pandora Chapter of the Children's Home Society will hold their second luncheon meeting of the year at 12:30 p.m. Monday at the home of Mrs. James Lamberth, 4 La Punta.

The chapter is also planning book review teas, the first to be given on Friday, October 22, at the Orinda Community Church. Mrs. Kenneth St. Clair is ticket chairman for the three eevnts, and Mrs. William Houston, is chairman of the first book review.

Music Teachers Group to Meet

The Contra Costa Branch of the Music Teachers Association will meet October 26 at the home of Mrs. Miriam Coombs, 415 South Avenue, Concord, to hear a preview of the program which will be given at the AAUW Music Appreciation meeting in November.

Theme for the program will be "Stephen Foster — His Music and the Music of His Contemporaries."

Clara King Floyd, president of M. T. A., will sing a group of songs and will be accompanied by Mrs. Inerz Barr at the piano. Mrs. Barr will play "Aufschwung" by Schumann.

Mrs. Myra Tagg will show pictures she took at the M. T. A. convention held at Pasadena in June.

Music teachers interested in becoming members of the local M. T. A. branch are urged to contact Mrs. Coombs for information concerning membership qualifications.

CP Youngsters Making Models

Ten of the youngsters enrolled in the Shadelands School for Cerebral Palsy in Ygnacio Valley have formed an airplane club under the guidance of their teacher, Mrs. Florence Mohr.

The children, ranging in age from 6 to 13, are currently engaged in building small model airplanes and Tuesday will visit Buchanan Field to see real planes in action. Among other events will be the visit to the cockpit of an airplane.

This field trip is one of a series begun last year by Mrs. Mohr.

Enjoy Vacation in Northern California

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Smith of 150 Orinda Highway are another Orinda couple who enjoyed their fall vacation trip through northern California, seeing the beauty of autumn coloring in the woods up the Redwood Highway, and about the Redding and Mt. Lassen country.

For a change of scenery on the return trip, they motored along the coast from Ft. Bragg south to the Russian River country.

NDGW to Hold Bazaar Tuesday

Plans are now complete for the annual fall bazaar of Las Amigas Parlor, Native Daughters of the Golden West, to be held Wednesday at the Walnut Creek Women's Club.

Luncheon will be served from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and a variety of booths will offer their wares from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.

Among the items to be sold will be pillow cases, dish towels, pot holders, aprons, stuffed animals, cake, candy and white elephants.

Job's Daughters Map Plans for Country Fair

Job's Daughter of Bethel 218 are making plans for a "Country Fair" which will be held on November 6 at the Veterans Memorial Building in Lafayette.

The girls have spent many days during the summer working on backgrounds for games and signs to be used at various booths.

The fair will be from 5 to 10 p.m., open to the public, admission free. There will be food, games, entertainment, and dancing, according to the general chairman, Ann Sonntag.

UN Poster Contest Slated, Rules Told

A poster contest with the theme "UN depends on You" is being conducted for students of Las Lomas and Acalanes High Schools, East Contra Costa Junior College and St. Mary's College by Mt. Diablo Council for the United Nations.

Posters must be completed by 3 p. m. November 19 and turned in to the school office. Entrants are also asked to register with school officials.

Winning posters will be displayed in the windows of cooperating merchants, who will also donate prizes.

Judging will be based on originality, expression of theme, handling of medium, quality of technique and simplicity and directness of thought.

Rules governing entries require a size of 8 by 22 inches, that the name, address, school and grade of the entrant be written on the back of the poster, and leave the medium up to the student.

Help Publicize Co-Ho-Na Ball

Mrs. Vernon Lewis of Orinda and Mrs. John Rarig of Lafayette are on the publicity committee for the Co-Ho-Na Ball, annual event of the College of the Holy Names Alumnae, to be held November 6 at the Claremont Country Club.

Theme for this year's dance will be "Our Golden Years." Dancing will be from 10 p. m. until 2 a. m. with a midnight supper served in the dining room.

Several cocktail parties and dinners are scheduled before the ball.

AAUW Garden Section to Meet

The Garden Section of AAUW will meet Thursday at 12:15 at the home of Mrs. Burton M. Hoover, 3272 Rogers Avenue, Walnut Creek, YE 4-3664.

The business of the day will be a discussion of designs for an exhibit in the Walnut Creek Chrysanthemum Show.

Bargain City to Open Walnut Creek Store

The opening of Bargain City's new store in Walnut Creek has been delayed for a short time so that the $100,000 stock of a recently-purchased hardware store can be moved here, it was revealed this week.

To be located on South Main Street across from Sears Roebuck Company, Bargain City is moving from its former location on Plaza Way, Lafayette.

Because of the delay in moving stock, Bargain City is continuing its removal sale at the Lafayette store, where numerous bargains are available this week.

IN ADDITION to the entire stock from the Lafayette store, the Walnut Creek store will offer the $100,000 stock of a Shasta hardware store which is being moved here now.

Hardware, toys, extensive supplies of builders' hardware, plumbing and electrical supplies and fixtures, pipe and pipefitting equipment are included.

Also, boats, paints and metal fencing materials are among the many items.

THE NEW BARGAIN CITY store is being completely remodeled and extensive display arrangements have been completed.

Of special interest to the shopper will be the 30-car parking lot which the store provides.

Want to Rent or Sell Your House?

There are families looking for housing in this area and The SUN and SUN Shopping News classified ads are a good place to meet them.

At least that's what two of our customers, one who wished to rent a house and another who wished to sell a house, told us this week.

Mrs. Norman Gothrick of 2106 San Miguel Drive, Walnut Creek, placed an ad to sell a rustic three bedroom house on an acre for $9800.

"Oh, goodness, I had so many calls — around 15 or 20. I was very pleased with the response," she said.

And Mrs. H. W. Saunders of Walnut Creek was able to rent a four-room house with her ad. "I rented it to the first one. I got any number of calls," she said.

Scouts Distribute Fire Prevention Week Posters

Boy Scouts of the Meridian District, Mt. Diablo Council, helped distribute Fire Prevention Week posters throughout the Diablo Vallay area as part of their community good turn for 1954.

The posters were placed in all public buildings, banks and business houses in Orinda, Lafayette, Walnut Creek, Danville, and Pleasant Hill, according to Harold Larsen, Health and Safety chairman in Walnut Creek.

The poster was prepared through the cooperation of the National Board of Fire Underwriters and the National Committee on Health and Safety in New York.

Many of the local fire departments presented programs to Cub Scout Packs, Boy Scout Troops and Explorer Posts in the area as part of the Fire Prevention Week, October 3 to 9.

To Hear About Mums

Members of the Hilltop Garden Club and their guests will meet at Orchard Nursery, Lafayette, at 9:45 a.m. Wednesday to hear Laura Safford talk on chrysanthemums.

The club meets the third Wednesday morning of each month, usually at different members' homes. Mrs. Walter Gramberg is president.

Constable Reserve Now in Operation

A Constable's Reserve is now in operation in the Walnut Creek Judicial District, Constable Clinton Jones has revealed.

The force is composed of men formerly with the sheriff's reserve and all have three or four years experience as well as certificates attesting to law enforcement training, Jones said.

They aid at Acalanes High School football games, at the children's matinee at Lafayette and in civilian defense work, as well as with other duties.

Included are Paul Pease and Norm Ketsdever of Orinda, Don Patton, Bob Lucas, Earl Creager, Elmo Lombardi, Frank Marcellini and Silvio DeAngelis of Lafayette and Don Bradley, Theodore Wilson and Harold Bennett of Walnut Creek.

Realtors to Hear Of Housing Act

An analysis of the Housing Act of 1954 and a discussion of conventional fiancing will be presented by John W. Fitting of Oakland at Contra Costa Realty Mart breakfast at 8 a. m. Monday in El Nido Rancho.

Josephine Dawson Pioneer In Orinda Library Service

By MRS. E. F. WILFORD

A career that began here over 20 years ago ends this month with Mrs. Josephine Dawson's retirement from the position of Orinda's librarian.

A pioneer of this community, Mrs. Dawson is able to trace the history of the library as it grew with Orinda.

Mrs. Dawson's service to Orinda began soon after she settled here in 1925. In that year the Dawsons were driving from Washington state to their home in Long Beach. Stopping at a gas station in Orinda, they met an old friend who invited them to his home for their first glimpse of Orinda.

This proved to be so much to their liking that Long Beach was forgotten and the Dawsons have been here ever since.

THE FOLLOWING YEAR Mrs. Dawson and her husband, E. A. Dawson, moved to their present home on Orinda Highway opposite the Filter Plant. They had become a part of the citizenry of Orinda, then numbering about 125 persons.

Mr. Dawson was employed by E. I. De Laveaga as supervisor of the Orinda water system, consisting of a system of wells and springs. When the East Bay Municipal Utility District took over, Dawson went with EBMUD and is now the assistant district supervisor. "We have really just grown with the community," Mrs. Dawson comments.

In 1925, Mrs. Dawson recalls, Orinda consisted of a scattering of summer cottages along the creek, as well as the Orinda Country Club and a 9-hole golf course built by De Laveaga in 1923. "There were a few hardy commuters, even then, but more families came here to vacation in the summer," Mrs. Dawson says.

AS ONE OF about 15 mothers and two teachers in the PTA, which later became the Orinda Mothers Club, Mrs. Dawson took her turn at being president in 1928 and 1929. "Every mother an officer," adds Mrs. Dawson, "and because members and cars were scarce, the president drove about picking the mothers up for a meeting."

Mrs. Dawson adds that her oldest child, Hazel, was the first student to begin and graduate from the Orinda School. She was one of a graduating class of two students.

As Orinda was then a part of the Richmond High School District, Hazel and other Orinda children were taken by a Richmond school bus to high school in Richmond.

THE ORINDA "Branch" of the County Library in 1925 consisted of a 3 by 4-foot bookcase with a handfull of adults' books provided by the county. This was located in the original Country Store.

About that time the county librarian spoke to the Orinda PTA and inspired the group to do better for the library.

One of the four buildings in the block now occupied by Wright's Village Pharmacy was obtained for use as a library. As each store in the building was leased, the library would rotate rooms. As PTA president, Mrs. Dawson took over the duties of librarian every Monday and Friday afternoon. The $10 a month allotted for these duties by the county was used for vital expenses, such as coal for the library stove.

IN 1935 a firehouse for Orinda's volunteer fire department was built on the lot now occupied by Harold's Realty. The fire department quarters were shared by the library until 1944, when the county sold the building.

Mrs. Dawson was then invited by Mrs. Myrtle Patterson to help at the Post Office on a temporary basis, for a period of six weeks. "I'm now in my 20 year of 'temporary' work at the Post Office," Mrs. Dawson quips.

In 1949 the Orinda Community Church was nearing completion. The Orinda Mothers Club negotiated to obtain an unfinished room in the basement for the library quarters.

THIS ROOM was completed by volunteers, the Lions Club and other civic groups contributing shelves. Mrs. Phair, then president of the Library Committee of the Mothers Club, approached Mrs. Dawson to serve again as librarian.

That year the present library was opened. It has steadily registered a rapid growth in circulation. Nearly 3000 books were withdrawn this August.

Because the library is such a busy place, the county librarian has deemed it necessary to increase the library hours and status of the Orinda Library. It is because of the increase in hours that Mrs. Dawson feels she must retire.

She concludes that, although she regrets giving up the work she has enjoyed so long, "now I hope to have time to read more of our books."

Mrs. Dawson is being replaced by a recent civil service appointee and resident of Orinda, Mrs. Elizabeth Lieberman.

Mother Celebrates Birthday Among Daughter's Friends

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Anderson Jr. recently entertained for their daughter, Lonnie, at their home on Moraga Via. Thirty-two friends were invited for supper, games and dancing held outside on the attractive patio.

A cake with birthday candles was brought in at the dessert course and everybody sang happy birthday to Lonnie's mother, who had decided the way she wanted to celebrate her birthday was with her daughter's friends.

Those invited to the party were Margie Williams, Marsha Nicolet, Sue Tharp, Judy Courtwright, Patty Brown, Judith Nicolaysen, Michele Harrer, Gerrie Rodden, Marty De Meyer, Gerilynn Ganiats, Frank Feldman, Don Minor, George Kimball, Milton Howe, Volney Howard, Jeff Schwarck, David Rhoda, Bill Brown, Bill McGuire, Allan Dahlstrand, Mike Samon, Steven Unneveher, Mario Guarneri, Grant Shuey, David Dail and Jo Cayting.

Orioles Plan Rummage Sale

The Orioles branch of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center will hold a rummage sale October 28 and 29 at Miller's Rummage Sales Room, 2049 San Pablo Avenue, Berkeley. Hours will be from 5 to 9 p.m.

Contributors may take their rummage to the following Orinda homes: Mrs. E. L. Bargones, 208 Camino Sobrante, CL 4-2217; Mrs. T. M. Harrer, 7 Oaks Circle, CL 6-8066; and Mrs. A. R. Snobel, 4 El Verano, CL 4-2710.

All types of articles are needed—clothes, toys, furniture, books and magazines, kitchenware, dishes, electrical appliances, radios, sporting goods, rolls of wallpaper.

Mothers Club Hits Top in Membership

The Orinda Mothers Club membership drive has reached 100 per cent in the unprecedented time of five days. The drive was scheduled for two weeks, but the membership committee was amazed to discover at the end of five days that their work was completed and 100 per cent membership was attained.

The mothers responsible for the success of the drive were: Mrs. Harry Minor, general membership chairman; Mrs. Robert Smith and Mrs. Carlton Rogers, area chairmen for the Glorietta School; Mrs. Mario Albo and Mrs. R. F. Wiseman, area chairmen for the Orinda School; Mrs. Douglas Adie and Mrs. John Cartwright, area chairmen for Del Rey School; and Mrs. E. J. Phair and Mrs. J.W. Neighbor, area chairmen for Sleepy Hollow School.

About our happy Country Folks

By EDITH BOLMAN

THEY SHOULD CALL HER MADAME EARRINGS, but instead her mail comes addressed to The Honorable Elinor Dickenson, postmaster of Moraga. Many of you will remember Mrs. Dickenson when she was connected with our local Sprouse-Reitz — always fun to chat with and interesting to note because of her flair for antique earrings.

Having somewhat of a yen for that sort of thing ourself, we questioned her and she described her collection, gathered from here and there over a period of many years, which she mounted in a shadow box, covered with glass, and had made into a coffee table.

No time for that sort of thing any more, though — after months of study and civil service examinations, her appointment has come through, having passed such hands as Senator Knowland's and President Eisenhower's.

Pretty smart girl, we'd say.

HAVE YOU EVER LISTENED to your own voice over a tape recorder? It is just like those funny movies where the hero talks to his conscience and then his conscience answers back.

The answering voice sounds a little different but vaguely familiar — in fact, sufficiently familiar to be entirely too darned fresh.

Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Sweet chose the moonlit and balmy Saturday last to assemble various chums in front of a roaring fire in their semi-enclosed patio (the semi was what did it — kept off the breeze and provided a cozy haven right there in the open). The steaks were wonderful and the canapes went circling past on one of those doo-dads which plays a tune at the same time.

The post-liberation activities were (1) dancing, (2) performing for the tape recorder. Each guest was herded into the back room to speak into the recorder and then the record was played back to the group. Very cute.

DID YOU SEE OSKIE at the Cal-Oregon game Saturday gather up up into his arms one of those cunning Oregon girl cheer leaders and carry her across the field to deposit her in front of the Cal rooting section? In good spirit, she did her leaps and bounces, with yellow and green streamers flying in the breeze, and gave them a real good show.

Horses — from the Islands to Orinda to Alamo

Rip 'em up — mow 'em down — rebuild 'em — park your suitcase — park your Arabians — such are the thoughts of the Leo Alexanders, who have bought Hazel Putnam's home and riding ring in Alamo.

The Alexanders brought their horses with them from the Islands when they decided to move back to the mainland, but after living in Orinda for awhile they realized that the Putnam estate would serve the purpose better, so they are completely redoing the house and barn.

Meanwhile, Mrs. Putnam has bought another academy nearby, with white fences making patterns over the hills and looking for all the world like a Grant Wood painting.

Of more appeal to the young riders, possibly, is the soft drink machine which makes available for the dry palate a delightful assortment of quenchers for the price of 10 cents — one dime.

GIRLS GROWN UP. They started off together as little tots with starched ruffled dresses at the Orinda Union Grammar School, and now they are going to college, getting married and giving showers.

Dode Bee was here from Los Angeles, where she is attending UCLA, to give a shower for Carola Courtright, who has just annonuced her engagement.

Some of the guests who have been school chums for years were Janet Chandler, Joyce Williams, Janet Jansse, Judy Woolsey and Ann Larkey, who are all going to the University of California; Ann Fleager, who has been going to San Jose State, and Chriss Inman-Kane, who has finished nursing courses and is starting at the University of California.

Fortunate girls, to stick together for so long.

Shifting, slamming, squeezing, signaling . . .

How odd that one lone man should have such an influence on so many women! Literally hundreds right here in Orinda are talking about jump shifting, slamming, squeezing, signaling and penalizing, and none of it has anything to do with football.

He is Charles H. Goren, that's who, and what he has done for the time-honored game of bridge is really something.

There are ladies all over town who absorb lunch at home over the kitchen sink, rush to the hostess' house, stuff their mouths full of cookies, take a gulp of coffee and off they go for an afternoon of good, hard play which would put all of them in sanitariums if the whole thing were not voluntary.

The last such gathering we heard about was composed of the following Mesdames, who play duplicate on alternate weeks: John Russell, William Courtright, Roger Dexter, Wayne Littlejohn, John Davidson, Robert Dashiell, James Hill, Stanley Hunt, Joseph Downs, Andrew Knudsen, Owen Jones, Dan Peacock, John Wasson, Robert Baker, Norman Ketsdever and Robert Pridemore.

European jaunt with oversized station wagon

Ralph Newman has just returned his family to Orinda after (1) living in Cambridge, Mass., while his father (Frank) did a stint at Harvard and (2) taking a jaunt through France, Austria and England while father took care of various chores in those countries.

Master Newman really fractured the Europeans with a couple of completely American innovations: (1) a crew-cut out of which the Europeans simply could not keep their fingers and (2) an oversized station wagon which created the impression that the Newman family was traveling on the Continent and across the channel in a box car provided with tires and an engine.

Purpose of the trip was the Salzburg Seminar in American Studies, law session, at which father was a member of the faculty. They lived with 50 law students from all over Europe in a castle which had once belonged to — and been redecorated by — Max Rhinehardt.

There was a porcelain room, a two-story banquet hall with murals on the ceiling and a gem of a Renaissance room — all overlooking a private lake.

The wienerschnitzel was good and the experience fascinating.

Then on to England, where they visited in Hampshire adjacent to "New Forest" — new indeed: It was named that by William the Conquerer — beautiful with oak trees and rolling lawns where animals grazed and roamed at will.

As a result of that, the animals constantly saunter through the nearby village of Brockhurst and are so tame they nuzzle their noses into car windows for sugar, just like the deer at Yosemite.

Then the Newmans went on to the Isle of Wight and eventually home to Orinda, where father Newman is connected with the University of California.

Speakers Declare Incorporation of Orinda Feasible

ice. The sheriff gives police service.

"Services are generally uniform in the built-up, central district.

"Generally, the report finds that the police services are not deficient. There are two highway officers to a 16-hour period. The sheriff allots three officers to the Orinda area.

"OUR MOST SERIOUS problem is roads, with or without incorporation."

Corbett quoted the Coro report as stating that planning and zoning "are at the moment involved in public discussion."

He also pointed out that the report "presumes" that incorporation would have the following effects on services:

Unaffected — districts: Schools, fire, water, sanitary, flood control, mosquito abatement, hospital; county; library; state; highways.

CITY ASSUMES — Now county: police, streets and roads, planning and zoning; now state: police.

Continue on contract — county: assessments, tax collection, health, building inspection.

ESTIMATED TAX RATE for an incorporated Orinda is listed by Coro at 44 cents per $100 assessed valuation, Cayting stated.

"This would be the estimated increase in our basic tax rate, on a modest level of services with a $167,190 operating budget, of which $61,158 would be raised from local property taxes," Cayting said, in discussing "The City" section of the Coro report.

Estimated income includes: licenses and permits, $6450; fines and forfeitures, $10,000; franchises, $5600; subventions, $104,148; property tax, $61,158.

ESTIMATED EXPENSES include: legislative, $2600; executive, $9700; finance, $2300; legal, $4190; planning, $4700; police (including five patrolmen, a chief and a clerk), $44,700; public works, $80,800; miscellaneous and fixed expense, $8200. A reserve fund of $10,000 is also listed under funds for expenses.

If the city included only the built-up, central district, the estimated tax rate would be 59 cents instead of 44 cents, Cayting pointed out.

He stated that the Coro report also estimates that if the fire district tax rate of 92 cents is included in the "municipal-type" tax rate, the total "municipal service" tax rate would be $1.36.

Net annual increase on the Orinda homeowner's total tax bill would average $17.64 — or $23.42 if only the central district were incorporated — according to Coro estimates.

THE 13-PAGE APPENDIX of the coro report was discussed by Berton Kohler.

The Appendix goes into considerable detail regarding various portions of the report and explains the legal requirements in steps toward incorporation.

"A PETITION FOR proposed boundaries must be signed by at least 25 per cent of the landowners in the area who must represent at least 25 per cent of the assessed valuation of the land, without improvements," Kohler said.

Ranch Operation Is Authorized

Milton Horner has been authorized to continue operation of the Bearinda Hereford cattle ranch of the late Robert D. Fearey, a 200-acre tract on Bear Creek Road, Orinda. The authorization order was signed by Superior Judge Homer Patterson.

The court also approved sale of 20 head of cattle for $2,010 at request of Horner, whom Fearey named as executor. Value of the estate is not estimated. However, the will lists $21,500 in cash, $9,100 in loans, property on Yerba Buena Avenue and 40th Street, Oakland, U.S. bonds and other assets.

Fearey, who died June 2, bequeathed the ranch to Miss Bess Jackson, 832 York Street, Oakland.

Car Hits Tree; Driver Injured

Injured Sunday afternoon when his car struck an oak tree on Bear Creek Road was Frank Medanich, 47, of 185 Wildwood, Piedmont. He was taken to Providence Hospital, Oakland, for treatment.

The front of the car was damaged and no citation was given, according to the CHP.

Mrs. Healey Has New Granddaughter

A new granddaughter, Margaret Melissa Montgomery, was born Friday in Peralta Hospital, Oakland, to Mrs. F. J. Healey of Orinda. The parents are Mr. and Mrs. Ed Montgomery of Oakland, son-in-law and daughter of Mrs. Healey.

STORK CLUB

SCOTT CHISHOLM BROOKS

Now weighing 6 pounds, Scott recently arrived home after an extended stay at the Alta Bates Hospital in Berkeley. A premature baby, Scott was born August 23 and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Brooks of 138 Canon Drive.

The thriving infant has three young sisters.

All Parcels Sold As Louis Stores Buy Site Here

The entire strip of land along the west side of San Pablo Dam Road, between the Village and the Crossroads, is now owned or contracted for by nine separate individuals, firms or partnerships, Phil Wagner, properties division manager for East Bay Municipal Utility District, stated yesterday.

All this land was formerly owned by EBMUD.

The last two purchase offers, accepted by the EBMUD board last Friday afternoon, were from Louis Stores, Inc., for a 197-foot frontage parcel for $44,315 and from Chris Ganiats and J. A. Fazio, building contractors, for a 110-foot frontage parcel for $24,750.

THE LOUIS STORES parcel is between the General Petroleum site and the Charles E. and Marie K. Phillips site. It includes a 100-foot frontage piece (.669 of an acre) formerly contracted for by Allen S. Klein, who subsequently "canceled out."

The Ganaits and Fazio parcel is between the Phillips site and Maynard Suehler site.

Before leaving for New York last Saturday to attend the National Association of Food Chains convention, Pdesident Ed Louis of Louis Stores said he and his son, Vernon Louis, vice-president of the firm, "intend to develop our site as a food market."

"We want to cooperate with the Orinda Planning Committee and we will make every effort to go along with the committee's thinking as to architecture, building placement and styling," he added.

Ed Louis lives in Happy Valley, Lafayette. Vernon Louis lives in Orinda.

IT WAS INTIMATED at the EBMUD board session that Ganiats and Fazio plan erection of an office building. Both men are Orinda residents.

Negotiations for the two firms were handled by Contra Costa Realty Company.

STARTING FROM the Village and going toward the Crossroads, the parcels are now owned or contracted for as follows, according to Wagner:

John and Virginia Snow, 291 front-feet (3.62 acres), $14,340.

Robert Bolman, Jack Buchter and Dr. W. M. Caygill, 704 front-feet (6.01 acres), $17,647.

General Petroleum Company, 280 front-feet (1.57 acres), $49,000.

Louis Stores, Inc., 197 front-feet, $44,315.

Charles E. and Marie K. Phillips, 100 front-feet (.68 of an acre), $22,500.

Chris Ganiats and J. A. Fazio, 110 front-feet, $24,750.

Maynard Buehler, 70 front-feet, $10,500.

Standard Oil Company, 250 front-feet (.93 of an acre), $46,500.

Shell Oil Company, 174 front-feet (3.02 acres), $34,000.

GOP Women to Hold Barbecue Tomorrow Night

Mrs. James Herrick Lonergan on Thursday will discuss the propositions appearing on the November 2 election ballot at the 10 a.m. meeting of the Orinda Republican Women's Club at the Orinda Community Church. Mrs. Lonergan is president of the San Ramon Valley Republican Women's Club.

All Orinda women are invited to attend, according to Mrs. B. W. West, program chairman.

"Too often we are familiar with the candidates on the ballot but poorly informed on the propositions. Mrs. Lonergan's discussion will give us a clearer picture of what we are voting for and should be of interest to all Orinda women," Mrs. West said.

The meeting will also include the election of a nominating committee. New officers of the club will be elected at the November meeting.

A Koffee Klatch at 9:30 a.m. will precede the business meeting. Mrs. G. J. Welch will be in charge of refreshments and cordially invites all women to also attend this "get-acquainted" period.

Mrs. Mitchell Greeted Here At Open House

Open house was held October 6 at the Stuart Mitchell home, 172 Lombardy Lane, for a woman who must have been the inspiration for the song, "Young at Heart."

Many friends greeted Mrs. L. A. Mitchell, 82, mother of Mr. Mitchell who flew here three weeks ago from Chattanooga, Tenn. She proudly wore an orchid given her by her daughter-in-law Mrs. Stuart Mitchell.

Mrs. Mitchell will be in Orinda through Thanksgiving, then will return to Chattanooga — again by plane.

Her grandson, Stuart Mitchell Jr., recently began studies at Stanford University, where he's specializing in chemical engineering and business administration.

12-15 Club Plans Card Party Tuesday

The 12-15 Club will have a luncheon and card party on Tuesday at 12:15 p.m. at the home of Mrs. A. W. Elkinton, 11 Honey Hill Road. Reservations may be made through Mrs. E. H. Fisher, CL 4-2897, or Mrs. A. A. Smith, CL 4-2850. The tickets are $1.50.

This party is another of the club's social and philanthropic affairs for the benefit of Juvenile Hall in Martinez.

REGULAR BUSINESS of the annual meeting held to elect eight new directors for the next two years followed, with a review of the year's activities by various committees of the board of directors of the Commuters Association.

Treasurer Gordon Bigelow reported accumulated income of $400 for the year, bringing the treasury up to $1100.

Arthur Weatherbe reported on service. He said the main accomplishment of the year was the agreement reached with the Public Utilities Commission and Greyhound for a load standard which would provide a minimum number of seats for a certain number of commute passengers as counted morning and evening by one organization or the other. He pointed out that the highway congestion has made the buses run late so consistently that there continues to be serious overcrowding, but it is hoped that re-scheduling will solve the worst of this difficulty.

Vice-President Charles Wood summarized efforts of the past two years to find a suitable location for the Orinda bus stop when the new interchange is completed about April, 1955. He has worked with the highway engineers, the PUC, Greyhound officials, the Orinda Association, and the Orinda Chamber of Commerce. In spite of all the efforts, the problem is so far unsolved, he said.

Directors Leroy Sowers and Fred Danner told of the bus passenger survey made last spring, to determine the commuters' desired travel times, and helping in the scheduling of buses. They said that the satisfactory response indicated that another similar survey should be made this winter.

PRESIDENT JOHN E. McKIRAHAN touched lightly on other activities of the year, mentioning the Golden Gate Transit Lines' application with the Interstate Commerce Commission to take over Greyhound's local operation, on which a hearing was held in July. No decision has yet been handed down by the ICC, he said.

The Shoreview hearing in San Mateo County, where Greyhound refused to re-route its buses to accomodate roadside passengers now cut off from the highway by freeway fencing, was mentioned by McKirahan. He told of the association's friendly relations with the Marin County Federation of Commuter Clubs, and the keen interest with which their resistance to Greyhound's application for increased commute rates was watched. This hearing has been continued for over a year and remains still undecided by the PUC, according to McKirahan.

He also told of the hard work done by the entire board of directors, and expressed his appreciation for the splendid spirit shown by the entire group.

Directors Bigelow and Sowers presented a list of candidates to fill the eight seats open on the board of directors this month. Nominated were Hugh Morison, Scott Payne, Douglas Buffington, Stanley Ahlborn, and unanimously elected were George Cummings, Mrs. Sadie Buchanan, G. S. Trumbly and Douglas Kelly.

At a special meeting to be held within the next few weeks, the eight new directors and the seven continuing directors will elect a president, vice-president, secretary, and treasurer to serve for the coming year.

Mrs. G. C. Brown Visits School She Once Taught

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson came up from their new home in Santa Cruz on October 1 to be the guests of Mrs. G. Chester Brown for two days and to attend the Seafarers meeting at the home of Mrs. Irene Marshall, 58 Brookside Road. Here they met old friends in an atmosphere very "Halloweenish," for the rumpus room had been decorated not only with arrangements of fall leaves, fruit and vegetables, but also with pumpkin lanterns, witches, skeletons and goblins. The hostess and others were in Halloween costume.

Next day the Wilsons attended the Fall Festival, and one Sunday accompanied by Mrs. Brown, returned to Santa Cruz. Highlight of the visit for Mrs. Brown was a trip up the Empire Grade to Bonny Doon to see the little one-room school where she taught 13 children from the first grade through the 10th and where her son, Laurie, and daughter, Marjorie, started their first grade work.

Now the old school is closed, but a mile away is a fine new union school with more than 30 children taught by a young man.

From Bonny Doon, Mr. Wilson drove up a narrow, twisting and pdecipitous road, very scenic but somewhat terrifying to his two women passengers, to the fire lookout station on the top of Eagle Rock. They were repaid with a marvelous view of Big Basin, the forest-covered mountains and clear vistas of Monterey Bay and the Pacific.

A fish food dinner on the wharf climaxed the day, not only because the food was wonderful but because it led to renewal of the friendship of Mr. and Mrs. John Goebel, the owners, and Mrs. Brown—a friendship which started before any of them were married.

After two days with the Wilsons, Mrs. Brown was called for by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Jesse Smith, and taken for a two-day visit to her son's home in Pacific Grove.

Here were more beautiful drives along the coast and visits to Carmel shops. Mrs. Brown's son, Jesse Smith, who works week days at Fort Ord Hospital and plays on weekends with Ernie Osborne's band at the Mission Ranch, Carmel, took time off to drive her to Orinda and stayed for a brief visit.

Player of the Week: Bill Nixon

Even if they haven't gotten off to a fast start this season, the Pleasant Hill Rams "should pull a few surprises" before it's over, says Bill Nixon, 145-pound Ram end and "Player of the Week."

Sixteen years old, this week's outstandig player on local gridirons is varsity offensive end for Coach Hal Briggs' Pleasant Hill High School squad, although only a junior.

Expandig on his comments about the Rams' chances in the season ahead, Bill says, "We've got quite a few good boys . . . not so experienced, but willing to work. They really put out in practice, I can tell you that."

LAST FRIDAY NIGHT the Rams dropped a close one to Las Lomas by a 6-0 score.

After that game, Coach Briggs said, "Bill Nixon's outstanding end play bottled up the Las Lomas potent running attack. His blocks sprung McMillan free around end."

And it's understandable, when you listen to Bill talk about football. "I like downfield blocking," he says, adding, with a laugh, "if and when I do."

"I enjoy carrying the ball, but it's really fun making those blocks," he says. And Bill has had some experience carrying the ball, having played defensive halfback in the first few games this year.

"I realized I don't have the ability at halfback," Bill says. "I think it takes certain senses, like how to pick holes."

A TEXAN BY BIRTH, Bill is the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Nixon, 2140 Janice Drive, Gregory Gardens. He has one sister, Revis, 14, a sophomore at Pleasant Hill.

His father, a carpenter with Cahill Construction Company in San Francisco, is regularly in the stands at the Pleasant Hill games . . . "whenever he can make it," Bill says.

This week's "Player of the Week" is also a mainstay of the Pleasant Hill baseball and basketball teams. Last year he was center on the B team in basketball (he stands 5 feet 11 inches and played third base on the varsity baseball squad; he will go out for both teams again this year.

Bill's post-graduation plans are not immediate, as he won't graduate until 1956, but he has an eye on college.

East Contra Costa Junior College looks good and "I know I'll go out for the team, if I go to JayCee," he explains. Also, "I like Cal, if it isn't too big."

"I'D LIKE TO GO TO CAL and go out for the team, but that's a few years away," he adds.

Other than athletics, Bill's activities are limited by the fact that he works six nights a week at Hagstrom's Market in the Gregory Gardens Shopping Center.

Perhaps that's the reason why he isn't too interested in girls, at the moment. "I don't particularly go in for dances and that kind of thing," he admits.

The first junior to be chosen "Player of the Week," Bill Nixon was nominated by Coach Briggs after last Friday night's play.

He will receive a gold football pin from The SUN and Grodins of California, co-sponsors of the award, and will also be formally recognized at the Pleasant Hill High School football awards dinner at the end of the season.

Another "Player of the Week" award will be made next week by The SUN and Grodins. The honor is designed to give recognition to top-notch prep players in the local area.

Acalanes, Las Lomas, Pleasant Hill, San Ramon and Mt. Diablo High Schools are participating. Watch for next week's "Player of the Week."

Dons Meet Tough Pirates Tonight At Pittsburg

The Acalanes Dons travel tonight to Pittsburg, where they tackle the high-riding Pittsburg Pirates at 8 o'clock.

The Dons have three losses and a tie on their record to date, while Pittsburg has four wins in a row, the last a smashing 33-6 win over the Antioch Panthers.

The Dons, a green squad to begin with, have been plagued with injuries all season long, but come within an ace of upsetting Diablo last week when they led throughout the first half and only fell by the wayside late in the fourth quarter.

THE PIRATES have a veteran outfit that boasts speed and a better than average passing attack.

The Dons have shown flashes of offensive greatness and on occasion the defensive play has been above par.

THE PIRATES are favorites to cop the win but were in the same spot last year, when the Dons dumped them in a 12-7 thriller.

The Dons have been working on some new offensive maneuvers in an attempt to get more punch into their offense.

Caswell Out to Break Bad Luck In Tonight's Race

Although not in contention for the local championship, Bob Caswell of Walnut Creek will be after tonight's 25-lap hard top main event at Contra Costa Stadium.

The local veteran has had trouble in maintaining a car and has missed his usual share of the season's purses. Last week he turned in the third fastest qualifying time but was unable to bring his number 19 home in the money.

With the season in the home-stretch, Bill Maher of Vallejo and Jim Graham of San Francisco will be fighting it out for the championship. In addition to Caswell, other bidders for top money are Lamar Barron of Vallejo, Chuck Webb of Sacramento and Gene Dudley of Napa.

Knights Face Acid Test in Antioch Game

The Las Lomas Knights, riding high wide and handsome, receive the acid test tonight when they play host to the Antioch Panthers football team under lights of Acalanes Memorial Field starting at 8 p.m.

The Knights started league play on the right foot when they copped a 6-0 win over the Pleasant Hill Rams last Friday night at Diablo High's field.

THE KNIGHTS may find the going a bit tough tonight as they face a Panther eleven stinging from a 33-6 defeat at the hands of Pitt's Pirates last Friday night.

In Carl Maxwell the Panthers have an 9ll-County back who rates as one of the best broken field runners in the league. Bob Beratta is another Panther back who bears watching.

The Knights can counter with a duo of their own in backs Rick Ostrom and Bob Kinyon who have managed to score in every game to date.

THE LONE LOSS of the Knights came in a practice game with Brentwood (25-18) a team that Antioch dumped in the season's opener, 25-6.

The Panthers have been hard hit by injuries in a couple of key spots which has cut their play down while the Las Lomas eleven has been kept intact and appears to improve with each outing.

Coach George De Klotz has had some heavy practice this week to correct weaknesses shown in the Ram game last Friday and in addition, he has installed several new offensive plays as well as smoothing out blocking assignments.

Rams Go Against Larger, Heavier Diablo Red Devils

The Pleasant Hill Rams have their work cut out for them when they meet the heavy Diablo Red Devils tonight at 8 p.m. under the lights of the Concord prep stadium.

Coach Hal Briggs of the Rams has been hard at it all week and hopes to muster enough of his injury-riddled squad together to give the Devils a go.

As usual, Fullback Jim McMillan figures to carry the brunt of the Ram attack.

DIABLO WILL HOLD a terrific weight as well as experience and depth advantage and a Ram win would be the upset of the year.

The Rams were underdogs last week against the Las Lomas Knights and came near upsetting the dope bucket finally losing out 6-0.

THE BIG QUESTION tonight is how well the Rams' light forward wall can hold up against the Diablo mammoths.

Chances are the Rams will take to the air a good part of the time to open up the Diablo defense.

Golf Clinic at Diablo

Jimmy Nichols, described as "the great one-armed professional," will preside at a golf clinic at the first tee followed by an 18 hole exhibition at Diablo Country Club tomorrow at 1 p.m.

Localites Urged To Join Reunion

Residents of Central Contra Costa County who graduated from Oakland High School in the class of June, 1939, are urged to attend a class reunion to be held November 14 at the Lake Merritt Hotel in Oakland.

Devils Beat Dons In Final Period By 25-6 Score

The Acalanes Dons, outweighed and plagued with injuries, came close to pulling the season's upset last Friday night when they outfought and outgained a veteran Diablo eleven, only to be overcome in the final quarter, when the breaks went against them and the Dons suffered from the lack of ample substitutes.

Diablo won the league opener 25-6, but the score far from tells the story of the game.

The Dons, definitely in the underdog role, came out fighting in the opening quarter and literally rushed the Devils off their feet.

THE GAME, played under the lights of Acalanes Memorial Field, found the Dons kicking off to Diablo. They were in the ball game when they recovered a fumble on the 25 of the Red Devils.

In five plays the Dons drove to the 10, and on the next play Mike Barrett, operating from right half, took the ball on a well-executed screen pass from Quarterback Red Jones and went over the goal line standing up.

The conversion boot by Jones was blocked, and it was 6-0.

THE REMAINDER of the half, the half, the Dons stopped Diablo's attack cold until, with four minutes to the half, the Devils swung into high gear, starting in mid-field and scored a T.D. with 30 seconds on the clock when Halfback Dick Brown went over from 3 yards out.

The conversion kick was blocked when Sonny Faulk broke through the middle of the Diablo line, and it was 6-all at the half.

In the third quarter it was a nip-and-tuck battle, with Diablo's break coming early in the fourth period.

ON A FOURTH down Diablo punt from midfield, Mike Barrett, safety, took the ball on the Dons' 5 and returned it to midfield, only to have the play nullified when it was ruled that the Dons had roughed the kicker.

It was a 15-yard penalty—and an automatic first down for the Devils.

From there the Devils went on to score with Brown going over for the T.D. from 5 yards out.

Boot split the crossbars on a placekick, and it was 13-6.

THE DONS CAME back fighting but lost the ball when the ball hit Acalanes Center Andy Fadelli and bounced back to Diablo on the kickoff.

The Dons held and Diablo punted, and on the next series of play Brown intercepted a long Acalanes pass and sprinted 40 yards to the 5, from where the Devils scored on a pass play to All County End Dan Colchico.

Colchico set the stage for the final score when he scooped up a Don fumble and ran 30 yards to the Dons' 4. Fullback Rego Piva tallied when he went over on the second play from 2 yards out.

The conversion try failed when Dennis Busby, who along with Fadelli had been a defensive fireball all evening, blocked the attempt.

The Dons took the ensuing kickoff and in six plays drove to Diablo's 10, when the game ended.

Richard Jones at quarterback showed to advantage for the Dons with some sterling ball-handling and passing, while Guards Ron Huffaker and Bill Rupley were standouts at their spots.

Viking to Play Yuba 49ers in Last Exhibition

East Contra Costa Junior College's Coach Hal Buffa moves his undefeated Vikings north to Marysville tomorrow night to play the Forty-Niners of Yuba College.

The Yuba College game will be the last non-conference tilt for the Vikings, who have gone undefeated in three previous starts. To date the ECCJC eleven has defeated Orange Coast 19 to 0, Vallejo 30 to 12 and Santa Rosa 13 to 6. The Vikings are currently the only undefeated team in the Coast Conference.

The Forty-Niners presently hold a two and two record, having lost their most recent game last Friday night at the hands of Vallejo College by a lopsided 37 to 13 final. Yuba also lost to Visalia Junior College 20 to 7, but defeated Porterville J.C. 26 to 20 and the Vike's old rival, Hartnell College, 51 to 6.

Wide Variation in Grid Rules Results In Confusion for Spectators, Players

By ERWIN MATTSON

ONE OF THE PROBLEMS of football is the matter of rules.

The regulations as laid down are multiple and confusing in themselves, with variations, unusual situations and interpretations all contributing to the mixed-up situation.

To further complicate rules, high school, college and professional rules all vary. Spectators and players are often confused when they see an infraction ruled one way one time and a different way another time.

ONE OF THE EXAMPLES is roughing the kicker. In high school ball the penalty is 15 yards and an automatic first down. In college it's 15 yards but not an automatic first down.

Another rule which varies is in the case of a downed punted ball.

In high school ball the kicking team can down the ball at any spot. In collegiate circles, if the kicking team downs the ball inside the opponents' 20-yard line, the ball automatically goes out to the 20.

SOME TIME BACK the college and prep rule-makers got together to make their rules the same. Agreement was tentatively reached, only to have the plan fall through because someone announced it before the formal body was ready to do so.

The higher-ups bowed their backs, and what would have been a decided advancement for the game fell by the wayside.

A SIGN OF the times is shown in the football banquets to be held for Acalanes and Las Lomas elevens this season.

The Walnut Creek Rotary held the banquet each year for the Acalanes Dons and has presented a trophy to the outstanding player.

This year the banquet and presentation will be under the sponsorship of the Walnut Creek Rotary for Las Lomas, while the Lafayette Rotary takes the spotlight when it hosts the Acalanes Dons.

It propably won't be too long before Orinda Rotary will be hosting an eleven of its own community.

It is difficult to realize how fast the area has grown. Acalanes started in 1940 with 375 pupils, and by 1960, it is estimated, there will be approximately 6000 prep students in the Acalanes High School District.

BASEBALL IS a ways off, but it is interesting to note that there will be five new turfed ball fields!

Las Lomas, Pleasant Hill and Antioch all come in with new grassed diamonds. Mt. Diablo has turf planted on its field for the first time.

To top it off, the Acalanes Dons have a new grassed infield. Last summer some sewer work played havoc with the Dons' infield, but that has all been remedied with a fine new infield just planted and well under way as far as growth is concerned.

Plans in baseball this year call for a playoff which will feature the four top clubs after a double round-robin of play. And it is possible the playoffs may take place under the lights of the Pittsburg Municipal Park, which no doubt would draw a good gathering of fans.

Such a move would give baseball a shot in the arm from a spectator attendance point of view.

The caliber of prep ball played has steadily become better, and fans should see some top contests if the plan goes through to have the playoffs under lights.

Prep Gridiron Season in 2nd Week of Play

The Contra Costa section of the Diablo Valley League swings into action tonight for the second week of pigskin play.

Tonight's games all are under lights with an 8 p.m. kickoff.

The schedule shows Las Lomas and Antioch at Acalanes Memorial Field, Pleasant Hill and Diablo at Concord, while Pittsburg hosts the Acalanes Dons to round out the week's play.

Next week it's Acalanes at Antioch, Diablo and Las Lomas at Acalanes and Pleasant Hill and Pittsburg at Concord.

Clothing Drive

First response to State Chairman Heisner's Clothing Crusade call has indicated wide public school participation.

The schools of Contra Costa County expect to collect thousands of pounds of clothng for distribution to needy children in the U.S. and overseas through the Save The Children Federation workers.

Rams Edged by Knights, 6-0

The Las Lomas Knights found the going a bit tougher than expected last Friday night but in the end wound up with another win when they decisioned the Pleasant Hill Rams 6-0.

The game, played at Mt. Diablo High's field, found an even-steven battle for most of the game, with the issue in balance until the final gun.

THE RAMS WERE close to scoring in the first half when they ended up with the ball on the Knight's 8-yard line, only to have time run out, and the half ended 0-0.

Coach George Deklotz evidently gave his charges something to think about with his half-time talk, as they came back in the third quarter to march 40 yards to a score, with Halfback Bob Kinyon taking the ball over from 8 yards out. The conversion missed.

The Rams came back strong when they intercepted a Las Lomas pass, but the Knights stiffened with their defense when it was needed most, and that told the story.

STANDOUT FOR he Knights was Fullback Jim McMillan, who ran up yardage all evening.

The showing of the Rams was pretty much of a surprisce, in view of their winless record to date, plus a number of injuries to key players.

The Knights, as a result of the win, stand at the top of the league standings, along with Pittsburg and and the Diablo Devils.

GUARDS WEBB Johnson, Paul Taylor and Halfback Steve Cook were standouts with their defensive play for the Knights.

The Knights have a seasonal record of three wins and a loss.

The Rams, like the Dons, have yet to win a ball game, although the Dons do have a 6-6 tie (Tracy).

All three clubs appear to be improving with each outing, and it will be interesting to see how they fare coming down the home stretch.

Last Friday's games were the first of league play. Tonight's games mark the second, and that means three to go in league play and to the season's end.

A MESSAGE
To 11 Families of Taste

If you've been seeking — with some disappointment, perhaps — something particularly individual and distinctive in a home, this may be good news.

At "Hedgewood Manor," in Ygnacio Valley near Walnut Creek, a group of 18 — and only 18 — homes will be built, each superbly designed to reflect the ultimate in gracious living. Now 7 nice families have already purchased, so there are 11 remaining. "Hedgewood Manor" is intended not for the many, but for those few families who can appreciate good taste in architectural detail and painstaking craftsmanship in construction.

Each home will be custom-built to meet the owners' needs for family and entertaining, and to express their particular concepts of a richer, fuller home life. Distinctive in every detail, each home features a heavy cedar shake roof, used brick trim, sliding glass Vista door opening onto patio and lanai, indoor barbecue in the family room, roomy baths, electric kitchen and other features. The setting, too, is spacious and luxuriant . . . 1/3 acre estates, heavily wooded with spreading full-grown trees. A model home is open now at "Hedgewood Manor" for your inspection. Just follow the directions below, or, if you prefer, stop at our office and we'll be pleased to escort you.

HEDGEWOOD MANOR
11 Custom Homes
$19,950 TO $25,500

With custom financing—your choice of conventional financing, new FHA terms, and veteran financing (no down payment).

DIRECTIONS: From San Francisco or the East Bay, drive to Walnut Creek via Mt. Diablo Boulevard (Route 24). In Walnut Creek, turn left onto Main Street, drive three blocks and turn right (at Greyhound Bus Depot) onto Ygnacio Valley Road. Then follow the arrows to "Hedgewood Manor," on Walnut Boulevard to Cherry Lane.

Who'll Win in Football Contest Of Diamond K?

Who will win $45 in merchandise orders in Diamond K Supply's Football Contest this week?

Two entrants came close to "scoring" last week — but each fell one short of the 18 correct guesses required for prize-winning.

The two who each picked 17 victorious teams were D. V. White, 2812 Kinney Drive, Walnut Creek, and Dan Shelley, 1668 La Bonita Way, Concord.

THEY WERE AMONG 125 who submitted entries. Eight of these entries, however, were postmarked after 11 a.m. Saturday and therefore could not be considered.

Last week Army was erroneously listed as schedulel to play Boston. The Army game was against Dartmouth. Therefore all answers for the "Army-Boston game" were counted as correct.

PRIZES WILL BE awarded as follows by Bill Magrath, owner of Diamond K:

$15 in merchandise orders for 19 correct guesses.

$5 in merchandise orders for 18 correct guesses.

In case of tie, prizes will be divided equally.

ENTRIES MUST BE made on the official form provided in the Diamond K announcement in this issue. This announcement also gives all other rules of the contest.

Entries must be received before 11 a.m. Saturday at Diamond K Supply, 3671 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette, or must be postmarked before 11 a.m. Saturday.

Violas Provide Numerous Colors

For edgings and hanging baskets lobelia is excellent. Nurseries have trailing varieties especially suited for container growth.

THE FAIRY PRIMROSE is a dainty plant which grows well in partially shaded spots and will provide fall and winter colors of white, pink, rose and lavender.

The soil holding this fall annual should be enriched with leaf mold and rotted manure. Low-growing itself, it looks fine growing as a carpet underneath a large tree or intermingled with taller-growing flowers.

You Can Install This Sprinkler System Yourself

Getting tired of dragging a hose around the lawn? Wish you had an automatic sprinkling system for the yard and flower beds?

A new sub-surface "install-it-yourself" lawn sprinkling system using a flexible plastic pipe has just been announced.

Designed primarily for home use, the pipe is so light that a man can easily carry a roll 400 feet long.

BECAUSE THE plastic pipe is not affected by freezing temperatures, installation does not demand that it be buried below the freeze level.

Instead, a homeowner merely lays out the pipe pattern he desires, and digs a trench 4 inches deep, taking about an hour and a half to install the whole system.

THE PIPE is placed in the shallow trench, and spray head units are attached with simple clamps between the pipe sections.

The spray heads, installed so that their tops project only slightly above ground, do not interfere with lawn-mowing. The whole system is put together with a screw driver; once it is installed, it stays permanently.

This Is Time of Year to Plant Bulbs For That Gay 'Color Show' Next Spring

By THE GARDENER

AS SHADOWS LENGTHEN ever earlier and the sun seems each day increasingly anxious to be on its way over the Pacific, wise gardeners are thinking ahead to longer, brighter days.

For this is the time of the year that finds flower lovers culling through bulb catalogs—planning color for next spring.

And certainly nearly every gardener will agree that tulips and daffodils are near the top of the list of those spring flowering bulbs that should be planted now.

SINCE THERE ARE 100 or more varieties of Daffodils, a nursery catalog certainly is in order! You'll be simply amazed at the varieties of colors, shapes and types available at nurseries.

The tall, deeply-frilled King Alfred trumpet daffodil is one of the best known of this multi-fold family. Cervantes, Golden Spur and Incomparable also enjoy popularity.

Daffodils are one of the hardiest and easiest of bulb plants to cultivate and maintain. They thrive in almost any soil although, of course, best in good, well-drained soil.

But it is important that they be planted this month. Early planting is essential for successful blooms.

ALSO EASY to grow, and offering as gorgeous a range of colors as might be imagined, are the tulips. If planted now, single early tulips will bloom in April, just after daffodils have begun to flourish.

But most popular of all are the May flowering varieties — the long-stemmed, cup-shaped Darwins, the oval-formed Cottage tulips in many shadings and the giant Breeders of many colors. And for flowers of brilliant color, there are the Parrot tulips.

There are also early and May flowering varieties of Double tulips. The short-stemmed early varieties are especially suited for beds and borders, while the later May Doubles, in clear and pastel shades, excite admiration in many situations. For rock garden and similar plantings, there is the Dwarf Species in small and giant flowered forms.

Azalea Named by Carolus Linnaeus

Carolus Linnaeus is not an exceptionally well-known name in gardening circles, but Azalea growers are idebted to him for the name of this evergreen and deciduous type shrub.

In 1753 the "father of botany," as Linnaeus eventually became known, selected the name "azalea" from the Greek word azaleos. meaning dry or inhabiting dry situations.

He chose this name because the species known to him was thought to prefer dry growing conditions.

Today, gardeners are growing species of azaleas in dry and wet areas the world over. About 200 azalea varieties are found in Pacific Coast nurseries.

Among this large number are types suitable to virtually every part of California — which, if planted now, will furnish gorgeous winter and spring blooms in solid and variegated shades.

Will United Crusade Help Us?

The 1954 East Bay United Crusade gets under way in the Diablo area on Monday.

We have had a number of calls from residents of the area who are not clear in their minds about what areas the fund drive covers and what agencies will benefit.

The answer to the first question is that the East Bay Crusade, through its Diablo Valley division, covers Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Orinda, Pleasant Hill and San Ramon Valley, as well as Concord and Martinez separately.

That means that funds donated to the East Bay United Crusade—both on-the-job contributions and gifts from businesses—will benefit this area.

But, funds donated to other United Crusades will not, according to Kathryn Pell, local field director, except in special cases. For example, on-the-job donations to the San Francisco United Crusade will not benefit the Diablo Valley agencies.

Neither will industrial or business firm gifts, except in the case of some 41 special cases where such firms have stipulated that 35 per cent of their gifts go to the East Bay United Crusade.

Donations made in Richmond or Marin County are in the same category with those made in San Francisco.

The answer to the second part of the question is that only those agencies participating in the Diablo Valley division of the East Bay Crusade will receive benefits.

Those which will benefit include the following: Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire Girls, Young Men's Christian Association, Shadelands School for Cerebral Palsied Children, United Service Organizations, White Cane Society, Children's Home Society, the learn to swim program of Mt. Diablo Unified School District, and services to this area from Herrick Memorial Hospital and Children's Hospital of the East Bay.

On the other hand, the East Bay Crusade will not benefit the following agencies which are not associated: March of Dimes, Salvation Army, Cerebral Palsy Foundation, Mt. Diablo Chapter of the American Red Cross, Mt. Diablo Therapy Center and the Contra Costa Heart Association, Cancer Society and Crippled Children's Society.

Each of the latter agencies will be making separate fund drives sometime during the year, if they have not done so already. Examples are the March of Dimes which was held last month and the Red Cross Drive which will be held in March, 1955.

Those are the facts about the East Bay United Crusade.

If they show that we cannot take care of all service and welfare donations by writing just one check out to the crusade, they also show that the number of times we will be asked for donations has been greatly reduced.

More importantly, the United Crusade represents a cooperative effort which, for the first time, allows local agencies to benefit from on-the-job and industrial contributions, at least in the East Bay, if not in all cases in San Francisco, Marin and Richmond.

And distribution of donations to all participating agencies is on an equitable basis.

If the crusade as a whole receives 80 per cent of its $3,856,236 goal, then agencies in the Diablo Valley division will receive 80 per cent of its total budget which is $68,000. If the crusade receives 100 per cent of its goal, we receive 100 per cent of ours.

At all costs, let's not use the fact that the East Bay United Crusade does not include all local agencies as an excuse.

Let's pitch in and support it. We can earmark a portion of what we can give for those agencies which will conduct separate drives later in the year and save it until those drives take place, but we cannot ignore the important work of the United Crusade.

What They Say . . .

Question: What's Your Complaint?

Although Central Contra Costa County has its share of growing pains, most of its residents wouldn't exchange is for another place to live. At least that's what we gathered through a telephone survey conducted last weekend.

Fingering through the phone book, we asked the following residents the question, "What is your main complaint, if any, about living in this area?":

ARTHUR B. JOHNSON, 1114 Laurel Drive, Lafayette, was on the positive side. "I don't have any comment. We're very happy with the community and don't think there is anything wrong."

Ditto for Robert B. Dozier of 49 Tarry Lane, Orinda. "I don't think I have a comment. It's a pretty good place to live. We're satisfied."

"My only complaint is in regard to the County Road Commission's lack of interest in maintaing Manzanita Road," said John J. McCaffery, 200 Manzanita Drive, Orinda. "Some places along the road are pretty treacherous in wet weather, especially for the school busses."

McCaffery added: "Actually we love this area, and think it's God's country."

John F. Waddell, 3288 Sweet Drive, Lafayette, had definite things to say.

I'D LIKE TO SEE planning that would keep the business district under conrtol. We need a logical plan which would protect residents from business encroachment and yet be fair to future business devlopment."

Waddell said he felt that Golden Gate Way should be expanded more as a business area, rather than Moraga Road. He added that there is plenty of room for home and business devlopment in this area, and that building plans should be mapped with an eye to "spaciousness."

"The traffic situation," answered Mrs. Marvin L. DePoister of 305 Roberta Avenue, Pleasant Hill.

"Well, we don't really have any complaint," said Mrs. Stanley D. Black of 165 Springside Road, Walnut Creek. "There is one thing, though, and it's really sort of a state of being. We hate to see all the little children on a double shift in school," she added.

"I have no complaint," was the immediate response of Peter J. Freund of 354 Maureen Lane, Pleasant Hill.

"Who could complain about living in this area," said Mrs. Roman Krapf of 211 Shady Glen Road, Walnut Creek.

Letters to the Editor

Dear Editor:

I would like to commend The SUN for its many editorial efforts on behalf of fluoridation of our water supply.

As you have often stated in your paper, fluoridation has been proved countless times to be of great benefit in preventing tooth decay. It is a measure which has the endorsement of the American Medical and Dental Associations and all our public health agencies, both national and local.

In many parts of the United States, millions of people have for generations been drinking water which naturally contains fluoride. It has been shown that by adding merely one part of fluorine to a million parts of water, we can give our children the same benefit.

THE FLUORINE would be added in controlled amounts to the central water supply, just as chlorine has been added for many years to safeguard the purity of our drinking water.

The cost of fluoridation has been estimated by the Americal Dental Association as averaging one dime per year, per person. Or to put it another way, the cost of a single filling will pay for fluoride for one person for about 30 years.

For that tiny amount, we can give our children two-thirds less tooth decay!

THOSE INDIVIDUALS who drink fluoridated water during the first eight or 10 years of their lives will receive the greatest benefit, since most of the enamel of the teeth forms during this period.

However, this protection is permanent — so that the adults of the next generation could expect far better teeth than most of us have.

The majority of civic and professional organizations in this area have gone on record as endorsing fluoridation and asking that it be enacted; yet the Board of Directors of the East Bay Municipal Utility District has shown no intention of heeding these requests.

THE PRINCIPAL EXCUSE offered so far has been that it is not legally qualified to do so. However, this excuse can hardly be considered valid when we realize that last February the state attorney general ruled that EBMUD may legally add fluorides to its water.

I think that we in this community have an obligation to select a Board of Directors for EBMUD that would show some interest in matters of public welfare.

We need men there who would take pride in aiding progressive health measures instead of hindering them!

Sincerely,
MRS. ROY W. TESS,
3 Sycamore Road,
Orinda.

Dear Editor:

I read with considerable interest your editorial deploring the failure of people to use their franchise as citizens — and vote. In this particular case you used the recent elections of the Contra Costa Sanitary District as an example, but it could have been a school district, fire district or any other election.

Like any other privilege, too frequent use will dull the appetite for that privilege. Living in an unincorporated area, we find that almost once a month there is an election of one form or another — it might be interesting for you to check and see just how often during the past year a citizen has been expected to go to the polls.

THE SOLUTION would appear to be a reduction in the number of dates on which elections are held.

I realize the many problems involved — particularly with the variations between boundaries of districts and boundaries of precincts within districts.

Yet the assessor and the tax collector for the county appear to have solved the district boundary problem and they might help in solving a ballot arrangement.

I also realize that some of our districts are restricted by state law as to the number of precincts that they can have.

IF A GOAL was set — the goal being one election in the spring for all local districts and the primary and general elections in the fall for county, state and national offices — the above difficulties would merely mean that it would take some time to solve the problem — and not that the problem couldn't be solved.

Therefore I suggest that The SUN start this as a continuing project.

Sincerely,
ROBERT KAHN,
3367 Moraga Boulevard,
Lafayette.

Letters to The Editor

To the Editor:

In your "Under the Sun" column last week you mentioned that a large number of "good, solid American citizens" are supporting the re-election of Congressman Robert L. Condon.

It occurred to me that a number of your readers might like to know some of the reasons these people think that Congressman Condon has earned their support.

ONE REASON is that Congressman Condon is willing to stand up and be counted, and will not prostitute his principles for the sake of politics.

Item: Despite the fact that over one-fourth of the members of Congress spoke privately or argued in committee against the wire-tap bill as an unwarranted invasion of traditional liberties, Congressman Condon was one out of only 10 with sufficient courage to vote in accordance with his convition.

A SECOND REASON is that by virtue of his experience as a lawyer, an assemblman and a congressman, Condon is intimately acquainted with the issues in his district and in national affairs.

Equally important, he is vigorously concerned amout those issues and is expressing this concern to his constituents in this campaign.

This is a refreshing contrast to the approach being taken by his opponent.

ITEM; Condon signed the Code of Fair Campaign Practices on September 22, the day is was received by him.

His opponent waited at least two weeks while he ignored its provisions. Now, by not mentioning the portion of the code which in the past he has most frequently violated, he indicates he will continue to fight not on any platform, but down in the dirt.

A THIRD REASON is Congressman Condon's demonstrated ability, which has earned him the respect and high regard of his collegues in the House.

Items: Condon was elected president of the 83rd Club (consisting of freshmen congressmen); Condon was chosen to present labor's amendments to the Taft-Hartley Act; Condon was the first freshman congressman in 150 years to author and get through committee a major bill (the Condon-Hoffman Bill to place control of the military with the Joint Chiefs of Staff); Condon was described by the New York Times as a "brilliant freshman."

BUT PERHAPS the most important reason why I support Robert L. Condon for reelction is that Congressman Condon is an effective representative, both of his district and of his party. As a Democrat in the Democratic 84th Congress he cannot but help to increase that effectiveness.

Contra Costa County is a vigorous and forward-looking county. The voters of this county must have a man with those same attributes to represent them in Washington.

We cannot afford to lose our franchise by replacing Congressman Condon with a man whose platform is the rubber stamp.

WIIIAM D. McKEE,
Lafayette.

Under The Sun

Meet Mr. Big of Politics

I met Tom Carlson for the first time Monday night. I've heard so much about "Tom," as he insisted upon being addressed, and I've written about him, but had never met him.

Tom is the county's number one attorney; also attorney for City of Richmond and several other governmental agencies. A resident of the county since 1910, he's Mr. Big of Contra Costa politics. Although he's a Republican and a power in the party, leadership of the G.O.P. party has switched from Richmond to our area. Carlson's tremendous power is wielded on the city and county level. Sheriff Jim Long, District Attorney Francis Collins, etc. and Carlson are on the same team. But if stories I hear are true, Carlson and Company will furnish campaign funds for both sides of a battle — if it is advisable. But the stories and rumors are too numerous to delve into.

Anyhow, Eleanor and I joined Pat and Vad Jelton and Bob and Claire Jeffrey (Pat and Claire are SUN columnists) and lifted glasses at the Carlsons' before the Republican Dinner in Richmond. (My gosh, sounds like a social column!)

It was real fun meeting Tom and his very charming wife, along with some of the Richmond political wheels. Tom is a very personable, likeable, friendly man. His philosophy: "Let's get to know each other so there can develop understanding." Some day I hope we can do a thorough profile story on him.

Tom predicts Brown victory

During the evening Tom said that Harry Brown will win the election for sheriff. Tom added he doesn't really care who wins, although he said he contributed $1,000 to Richardson.

I don't think that personally Carlson is for Richardson but his associates are supporting Richardson and so he is going along. If you remember, well before the primary, The SUN asked Carlson what he thought of the rumor that Richardson would run for sheriff. Carlson answered that Richardson would do better not to become a candidate.

Monday night Carlson revealed he helped persuade Richardson not to run against Sheriff Long four years ago. And since then Richardson has stated he withdrew after a talk with Long. Richardson emphatically denies the rumor he was paid $50,000 not to run.

Another interesting item is that Tom indicated he may retire one of these days and may move into our area. The Jeltons, who are personal friends of the Carlsons, later told me that he has suffered heart attacks and is now taking it easier.

A deal in Richmond

Talking of Richmond and politics reminds me of a story. The following is fact. It has been confirmed. It is not a rumor.

A deal has been made to trade some Condon support for Richardson support. It's a confusing deal so let's see if I can explain it clearly. Richardson supporters in Richmond — some are big Republicans — made this offer to Condon Democrats: you fellows work for Richardson and we'll see that Condon gets a big break in the Richmond daily. And the deal was consummated.

No, the Richmond daily is not endorsing Condon. But the anti-Condon stories are being down-played or left out entirely. And that is what the Richmond Demos wanted.

Party politics have no place in the non-partisan race for sheriff. Unfortunately, party politics have become an important weapon in the race.

In this area, for example, Richardson forces are doing everything they can to link Brown and the Democrats. This is understandable because in the primary Brown received more votes here than the combined total of Richardson and the other four sheriff candidates. This is heavy Republican territory — so they are trying to tie Brown to the Democrats.

However, they fail to mention that Richardson is also a registered Democrat.

I'm also concerned because Brown's strongest local supporters are important Republicans and they have been told to stay out of the sheriff's race — for the sake of "party harmony," etc. And yet the pro-Richardson Republicans on the Richmond side of the hills exert terrific pressure for Richardson.

Here's chance to clean up

I believe it's important that citizens — regardless of party — who want decent law enforcement should support Harry Brown. Here is a chance to overthrow machine rule. If Brown is elected, Brown will be THE sheriff. He will not take orders from anyone — including the gambling king of this county. Bill Pechart is supporting Richardson — and the latter has not disavowed this support.

Brown doesn't have to take orders. He owes "them" nothing. His campaign treasury proves that. He will only owe a debt to you — Mr. and Mrs. Citizen who voted for him or who possibly sent him $5 or $10.

Last week I was pessimistic about Harry's chances come November 2. This week I am much more optimistic.

Why? Because apparently the Richardson forces are now in a panic. They are using every lie, rumor, faked document, indecent story, phonograph records — everything to beat Harry Brown. They are tearing down most of his signs. They don't seem to be selling Richardson. They are concentrating on smearing Brown. The Sun will go into detail about this next week.

I am encouraged by the Richardson smear tactics. I think possibly Tom Carlson is right — that Harry Brown will be elected.

REMOVAL SALE CONTINUES!

After having been closed for a week, we find we are unable to open in our new WALNUT CREEK STORE at 1231 S. MAIN ST., across from Sears, Roebuck Co. as soon as we had planned. So, due to the delays in the remodeling program, and in response to requests, we will continue our REMOVAL SALE for a very limited time.

"Underwater ear" spots telephone cables fast. Using a special underwater sound detector, telephone trouble shooters can quickly find cables lying on the bottom of the bays and rivers of the Pacific West—even cables buried deep in silt. This means cables can be raised, when necessary, in much less time than if we had to grapple for them "blindly" or a diver had to wander about looking for them. And, of course, time saved is also money saved. Thus, the "ear" is helping us bring you good service at low cost. Pacific Telephone works to make your telephone a bigger value every day.

Blind Club Plans Bazaar Tomorrow

The Contra Costa County Club of Adult Blind is having a bazaar in the Eagles Hall, 12th and Montezuma Streets, Pittsburg tomorrow night from 5 until 10 p.m.

A spaghetti dinner will be served from 5 until 8 p.m. for $1 for adults and 50 cents for children. A unique door prize will be awarded at the end of the evening.

The bazaar will feature booths of home-made candy and cakes, under the chairmanship of Mrs. Ina Mauzy of Concord and Mrs. Bea Beatie of Pleasant Hill; aprons and fancy work under the chairmanship of Miss Elsie Williams and Mrs. Fowler of Pleasant Hill; white elephant, grab bag, fish pond and country store.

General chairman is Bill Anderson of Pittsburg, with Frank Williams of Pleasant Hill as assistant.

There will also be a demonstration of the use of various aids for the blind at a booth, using Braille reading and writing, and a Talking Book. Frank Williams and Mr. Fowler of Pleasant Hill will assist in this booth.

Service organizations of this area have assisted in the sale of tickets for the bazaar, and the businessmen and service organizations of the Pittsburg-Antioch area have donated merchandise for the Country Store.

CC Singers in Rehearsal Now, Members Sought

The Contra Costa Singers, a community chorus rehearsing at Mt. Diablo High School in Concord on Monday nights, 7:30 to 9:30, is seeking new members.

George Prall, director of the chorus and also choral director at Mt. Diablo High School and at the First Presbyterian Church in Concord, reports that there are openings in all vocal sections.

Tenors are needed the most, but all are welcome, Prall says. He explains that the chorus sings all types of music, from light opera to classical.

The chorus is under the auspices of the Mt. Diablo Adult School, so there is no charge, other than a small registration fee.

Interested citizens throughout the county are urged to register for the chorus any weekday afternoon or evening.
